NATURE, our heredity, our environment, all that others have done in the world, are for us only so much raw material from which to create our own experience, personal and peculiar to ourselves. The tragedy of life either is our indifference to the opportunity, our delusion that we are getting somewhere simply by remaining in an original state of nature, or it is a failure of our intelligence to discover by what laws this raw material may be changed into something rational and beautiful. This is the essence of my philosophy, by which I try to find standards for living, and standards for art.

FROM COAST TO COAST THETAS STANFORD'S PEG OWEN

PUN my word!" said Peg Owen with one of her worst puns, when the editor approached her for permission to use her as material for this issue. Sometimes we are glad that Peg (formally, Margaret) lives at home, across the back lawn, instead of in the house—she would undoubtedly give us all perpetual laughing cramps were we forced to bear her pernicious punning morning, noon, and night! She will attack you with something like this: "Have you heard about the girl who had too many clothes?" And you will say "No," never suspecting such a possibility. And she will rollick back: "Greedy Garbo, dear, Greedy Garbo!" Illimitable. Illimitable in every way. We would like all Thetas to know and appreciate Peg Owen as much as Phi does. Aside from being supremely foolish she is one of the most outstanding girls on Stanford campus.

Peg entered Stanford from the Palo Alto high school with scholastic and activity honors. In freshman year, she participated primarily in athletics and in the great game of knowing people. She won a place on the all star tennis team, and took part in the annual dance drama given by the interpretive dancing classes. In the other, and perhaps more fascinating game, she established among the girls of her class those personal contacts to which her personality seems to be especially adapted. From the outset she was accepted as a leader, in her second year being elected to the vice-presidency of the '29 class, to the Sophomore cotillion committee, to the executive board of Women's athletic association, and to the Cabinet of Y.W.C.A.

The responsibilities imposed upon Peg were not misplaced, as her adequacy in meeting difficult situations, her tact in dealing with people, her kindness and thoughtfulness, readily proved. Associated women students is governed by two bodies, women's council, whose function is judiciary, doling out closed nights to infringers of the lock-out rules and so forth, and Women's conference, whose function is legislative. As a junior Peg officiated on both committees. Well known for her interest in people as individuals, groups, even nationalities, Peg was elected, in the same year, to the board of the Stanford fellowship, an organization of men and women established for promoting good feeling between groups within the university and between Stanford and other universities. A symbol of the recognition afforded Peg by the campus as an exceptional leader is the little black mortar board pin she sometimes wears beside her kite, the sign of Cap and gown, the highest honor society for women at Stanford.

And now, in her last undergraduate year, Peg is taking on still more responsibilities. Continuing active on Council and on Conference, she is, to boot, vice-president of Associated women. In Y.W.C.A. work her enthusiasm is as great as it ever was. She is president of Cap and gown. And an especially significant position is that of head of sponsors, who are senior girls selected to live at Roble and assist the new girls in adjusting themselves to Stanford life.

However brimming she may be with ability, Peg is, above all, just a "good sport," the tall girl with the black hair and brown eyes an odd mixture of twinkles and gravity, who loves to talk, to play bridge, to hike, to picnic . . . anything, everything. She is vitally interested in her work as a history major, and is looking forward with pleasure to a year of graduate study based on the Italian Renaissance. As might be well expected her hobby is books. Books in general, but particularly biographies. We fear Stanford is going to lose her soon. No, not to man and marriage—not yet—but to the great unknown of far countries. She has a particular yen for Constantinople, but is divided between that and Florence.

Wherever she goes, whatever she does, will be a big thing, we know, for we know Peg. "Pooh, pooh!" says Peg herself. "You don't know me at all!"

RUTH HEMBROFF

RUTH TINSLEY, PHI

RUTH TINSLEY declares that she spends all her time trying to live down her reputation. And what is that? . . . "Phi Bete" . . . "Y.W.C.A. president" . . . Tin has a superior head, it is true, but no one meeting her, with her chubby cheeks and her brown hair swirled into what she calls a "Seabreeze bob," would suspect that she wore the coveted key; and she is an upright and honorable girl, it is true, but no one knowing her and finding her full of radical ideas and a strain of the devil would accuse her of being a straight-laced moral and religious leader, as "Y.W.C.A." might connote. Any one so rash as to even suggest that she is a "stude" or a "stick" is in danger of engaging Tin in a game of what we call "griffling," which is no more than honest to goodness fisticuffs. She is a dangerous girl. It is dangerous to compete with her in griffling . . . or in grades, or in argument, or in . . . Well, she is a worthy opponent in more than formal debating.

Tin seems never to have a moment of composure. She is always dashing off to balance the Daily books, watching her watch to be on time at her debate or at Y.W.C.A. meetings, organizing material for discussions, working till dawn on psychology reports, oblivious to the passing of time and the pleas of her roommate. "Sleep?" she says with scorn, "No time to sleep." And the amazing thing is that she shows no symptoms of a nervous breakdown.

Ruth Tinsley is responsible for the successful functioning of a varied number of enterprises on Stanford campus. She came here from Kansas City, principally for the adventure of leaving home, and for the psychology department, and came assisted by a substantial scholarship from the Kansas City Stanford alumni club, recognition of her scholastic ability. In her freshman year she entered vigorously into debating, winning a place on the women's Triangular debating team, which joins in forensic competition with the University of California, and the University of Southern California. She also began her apprenticeship on the business staff of the Stanford Daily, spending many a long hour typing letters, adding columns, entering items in books. . . . Both avenues of activity netted her enviable positions later. Her sophomore year she registered at Kansas university, and spent a lively nine months with Kappa chapter. While there she disregarded extracurricular work for the most part, but brought back with her a straight-A record. Once more on the Stanford campus, she re-entered her fields of activity interest, becoming women's Debate manager and women's manager on the business staff of the Daily. In addition she was elected to the Cabinet of Y.W.C.A. taking executive responsibility in that organization, in which she had been active previously as a discussion leader. As a little aside she wrote an essay on colonial history, and won the prize offered by the Colonial Dames.

Three times in this last year we have sung at the lunch table "Here's to you, Ruth Tinsley . . . ," our method, as doubtless that of other chapters, of congratulating a girl when she is elected to an honor society. A long file of black robed girls entered the house one night and took her into Cap and gown. A little note came through the mail one day announcing that she was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. And a notice in the Daily made known that she was elected to Tau Psi Epsilon, honorary psychology society.

Tin graduated in March, but continues at Stanford as a graduate student, hoping to receive her master's degree in psychology next December. Dr Terman considers her one of his most brilliant students in psychology, and has recommended for publication a paper she has just completed, an evaluation of instincts from the Gestalt point of view, the first piece of undergraduate work to be so highly praised. Tin, in fact, is well on her way towards being a professor of psychology. "Just see me," she moans, "ten years from now. A repressed old maid, with glasses on the end of my nose and a dictatorial manner, doling out dry facts and theories to bored students Alas!" Well we smile.

RUTH HEMBROFF

VIRGINIA NELLIS, ALPHA MU

VIRGINIA NELLIS, during her three years at the University of Missouri, has held important offices in the chapter and featured largely in activities on campus.

When a freshman, Virginia was elected as council representative for her class, and was reelected to this office in her sophomore year. She served on the Home-coming committee for the university last fall. She takes an active part in political campaigns; is a member of Junior league of women voters, Y.W.C.A. Virginia was active in the Memorial campaign work.

Besides these activities for the university, Virginia finds time for several honorary societies. "Cwen," a sophomore organization; Zeta Sigma, interfraternity; Gamma Alpha Chi, advertising club. Then she has taken part in such college productions as the W.A.A. vaudeville for 1927, the Cwen Capers for 1927, and the Fashion show for 1928.

That sounds like enough for one little girl (and Virginia is a little girl too, a cute little red-headed girl just bubbling over with life and radiating happiness—a veritable little "Pollyanna," but not the kind that purposely tries to make people happy, she just does so naturally) but it is not enough, Virginia is coming back next year and has a full program planned that will add probably to her activity honors.

DOROTHY COTTRELL, LAMBDA

DOROTHY COTTRELL has won distinction by her astonishing versatility and efficiency. She has played on every hockey and volleyball team during four years at Vermont. She is Chief justice of Women's student union; president of Press club, and of Masque and sandal; district chairman of the educational committee of National student council of Y.W.C.A.; member of the honorary societies Bluestockings and Eta Sigma Phi.

Dorothy has played at Vermont major rôles in The goose hangs high, Captain Applejack, Bab, Lady Windemere's fan, Adam and Eva, and The devil's disciple. The Burlington free press, criticising the last play, said: "Miss Cottrell is too well-known to audiences of the past three years to need an introduction. We lament that heart disease swept away Mrs Dudgeon after the first act, for we yearned for more of Miss Cottrell's clever character work in the person of the embittered mother. We also hope before her departure from the U.V.M. stage to see her in a straight part. She displayed, as she always has done, a complete understanding of her characterization, developing her light and shade with sure deft touches. Miss Cottrell has a carrying voice of fine timbre which she manipulates with great dexterity. We predict a stage future for Miss Cottrell."

VIRGINIA NOYES

CAROLINE DZIATZKO, ALPHA MU

CAROLINE DZIATZKO is the personification of the word "leader." She is president of Alpha Mu under whose guidance the chapter is having a most successful year. When Caroline says "froggy," members and pledges know that it is time to jump because she always knows just what to instruct the girls to do and at the right time.

Caroline excels in journalism, athletics, and politics. She served on the women's athletic board through 1926, 1927, and 1928. She was assistant manager of W.A.A. vaudeville in 1927 and in 1928. Caroline was Big Sister chairman for 1927. She is a member of W.S.G.A. board; was elected to L.S.V. honorary senior society limited to the four senior girls of most outstanding personalities and activities.

A new organization started on campus, sponsored by Dean Walter Williams of the School of journalism, has as its purpose the installing of a friendly rivalry between honorary Greek letter fraternities, and the creation of a desire for improving the School of journalism. Caroline, treasurer of Gamma Alpha Chi, has been chosen to represent that group in this new movement.

Success in building the new addition to Alpha Mu's chapter house was largely due to the untiring efforts of Caroline Dziazko, who in her own words said: "I spent all my time, used all my energy, and ruined my disposition in getting the addition to the house this summer."

ALPHA LAMBDA'S DANCER—RUTH ANDERSEN

SELDOM does one encounter such talent as is possessed by Ruth Andersen. Three years ago she took her first dancing lesson, and progressed so rapidly that now she stands out as one of the most pleasing and promising of the younger artists of Seattle. Her part in various entertainments during the past three years has been an important one. Everywhere the strength and grace of her dancing has been praised. For the past two years, she has danced in the annual entertainment of Seattle's Junior league. For three successive years she has had an important part in Dance drama, annual entertainment sponsored by the dramatic department of the university. This year she appeared in a program of interpretive dancing given in conjunction with the Seattle Civic symphony orchestra. Besides these, her name has appeared on the programs of many lesser entertainments and festivals.

BETTY ROBB, ALPHA LAMBDA

EVERYONE on Washington's campus is familiar with the name of Betty Robb. As a freshman she was active in Y.W.C.A. and in Women's federation, managing teas and assembly programs. As a sophomore she was a member of every class committee formed and was later elected vice-president of the class to serve during junior year. Now as a junior Betty is more active than before, serving on the committees of Varsity ball, Junior Prom, and Big time;—managing campaigns; and serving as secretary of J.G.V. the annual all-university entertainment sponsored by junior girls. She has distinguished herself not only in activities, but also in scholarship since her name appeared on both freshman and sophomore honor lists.

OUTSTANDING MEMBERS

ALPHA GAMMA AT OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

LOUISE JOHNSON, our president, is a person of charm, sound judgment, faithful effort, and kindness. She belongs to Mortar board, to Strollers, to Chimes, is president of Browning dramatic society, of which last year she was business manager. Louise has been on the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet for two years, now being chairman of membership-finance drive. She is on the Makio (yearbook) staff. In her sophomore year she was awarded the Marjorie Deane badge, the honor badge, whose sophomore wearer possesses a combination of qualities—Theta loyalty, personality, leadership, scholarship, and service.

SUE BELLE REEMELIN, affiliated from Alpha Tau, is chairman of campus fellowship on Y.W.C.A. Cabinet. She was elected to Sigma Alpha Sigma, social service club. Her specialty is recreational work; she has charge of a girl reserve group, and each summer works at a girls' camp.

JOSEPHINE SNYPP is Theta's representative in Panhellenic.

VIRGINIA TAYLOR, "Jinny," is versatility personified. Her tall blond beauty has earned a place in several campus beauty contests. Her scholastic record is high, this year on the College of art's honor roll. For two years she has played leads in the plays given by Strollers. She is a member of Chi Delta Phi, literary society.

MARGUERITE CARLIN, treasurer, possesses a ready wit, and a cheery way which makes her welcome in any crowd. We are proud of her scholarship. She is assistant business manager of Browning dramatic society, member of Strollers, in Y.W.C.A. She writes clever poetry, finding an outlet for her literary bent in Chi Delta Phi.

DORIS BLUE—petite and blond, and by her friends called "Dody," has a place on the Junior Prom committee.

BETTY BONNET is treasurer of Y.W.C.A. She likes to write, so is treasurer of Chi Delta Phi, on Makio staff, member of Browning dramatic society. She has been on the Art's college honor roll for two years. Last spring Betty was elected to Chimes.

RUTH CRABILL is sophomore representative on Women's self-government association, and sub-chairman on the dramatic committee of Y.W.C.A. Ruth was one of four Thetas who made plays given by Strollers.

SARA LOUISE ERVIN is secretary of Women's self-government association. She is on Makio staff, and on W.A.A. board. Sally plays on baseball and hockey teams, and majors in physical education. Last year she was Senior Prom queen.

OLIVE JONES expresses herself through musical ability and dramatic talent. She plays the piano, is in the women's Glee club, and has composed music for Scarlet Mask dramatic society. Strollers claimed her for lead lady. She is also a representative on Women's self-government association. Olive now wears the Marjorie Deane badge, worn each year by the sophomore who has done the most for Theta.

ELIZABETH KILBOURNE in on the staff of Makio.

MARGARET MILLER's name is found often in the cast for Strollers' plays. Margaret is also active in Y.W.C.A., working hard on the campus fellowship committee.

KATHERINE BORN played one of the five girls' parts in The queen's husband, fall production of Strollers. Katy also has been invited to attend the Junior Prom with the chairman, which makes her maid of honor to the Prom queen, whose escort is always the president of the junior class.

JEAN ERVIN has been elected president of Y.W.C.A. freshman Cabinet.

RUTH McCONNELL has brought fame to Alpha Gamma through her violin playing.

THELMA TRUBY, in this her first year at Ohio State, made the varsity debate team.

MARY E. BABCOCK, MARTHA BUTCHER, and SARAH NAN DUSTHIMER, made Glee club. Three more different girls you have never seen, for Mary is a tall brunette; Martha, a tall brown-eyed blond; and Sally, as we call Sarah Nan, a small redhead. Mary and Martha are both freshmen, and Sally went to Oberlin last year.

JANET SLEMMONS is Alpha Gamma's intramural representative. It is her job to arrange for games of one sport or another with other fraternity teams, to call practices, and to superintend the preparation of our own team for each game.

DOROTHY HOOPER is on the debate team. Public speaking and dramatics seem to go hand in hand, for last year Dotty played a stellar rôle in one of the freshman dramatic society's productions.

BETTY BONNET

PEACE CARAVANS

THETAS in Ann Arbor and Madison, entertained a Theta peace caravan "in absentia" last summer, when the Swarthmore college peace caravan was visiting and making speeches in those cities. Mary Roberts still spends much time telling us about her peace making adventures. It may be interesting to know that she plans to teach in Syria, near Jerusalem, next year.

A few college students can differentiate between the ideas of a peace caravan and that of a train of sleepy camels whose riders make a practice of yelling, "Peace on earth, good-will toward men," but very few indeed are so gifted, and since there was a peace caravan sent out from Swarthmore college last summer, it might be well to know that peace caravans do not include camels.

Believing that what makes any movement effective is the force of public opinion behind it, believing, also, that young people who are sincerely interested in furthering world peace should be given the opportunity to serve, the American Friends' service committee organized and financed eleven college teams and sent them out for nine weeks to go from town to town and talk peace, and to get as many people as possible interested in working for peace.

These teams usually consisted of two college students, a second-hand Ford, and a camping outfit. Each team was given twenty-five dollars a week for all expenses, also some peace literature and entire freedom to do and say what they chose (with discretion). They went to the smaller towns, arranged their own meetings, planned their own publicity—through posters, newspapers, and announcements—and talked peace wherever and whenever to whomever it was possible.

Before starting out, all the caravans, from Kansas, Nebraska, Indiana, Iowa, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and elsewhere, gathered together for a week at a peace conference at Mt. Pocono. They lived in a cabin in the woods—twenty-seven of them. Discussion of socialism, imperialism, and militarism ran riot inside the cabin and the outside looked like a Ford convention—less recent and still less recent models.

At the conference itself, opportunity was given for hearing and meeting great peace leaders, Rufus Jones, Frederick Libby, James A. MacDonalld, Nevin Sayre, Paul Jones, and even Norman Thomas had a session with them. Then they started off in eleven different directions to conquer the world, in a very peaceful fashion.

SWARTHMORE TEAM

The Swarthmore team, Mary Temple and Mary Roberts, headed for Michigan and Wisconsin in an eight-year-old Ford called "Ducky Holmes."

Life in "Ducky" was a perpetual surprise. They learned to expect the unexpected. The best advice they received all summer came from a garage man who said that they ought to trade the Ford for a horse and gun and shoot the horse. There was scarcely a part of that Ford that didn't go wrong at least once. Just before the last meeting, and there were a hundred miles to go, "Ducky" broke his crank shaft. Mary Roberts took the train for Kalamazoo and made the speech. Mary Temple hauled the remains of "Ducky" to a garage in Ann Arbor, and the next day they sold him to a junk man for ten dollars (and felt sorry for the junk man) and came home by train. Poor "Ducky" Holmes! It was an inglorious death, but he died in a noble cause.

During the summer the caravan addressed about forty meetings; church services, ladies' aids, prayer meetings, Christian Endeavors, missionary suppers, tea meetings, student supper meetings, an Epworth league conference, women's Bible classes, Sunday schools, and even an evangelist tent meeting. In one day they were known to sing fourteen hymns and be prayed for seven times.

In one church they had entire charge of the service, the minister being away on his vacation. Mary Temple was the minister and managed the prayers, hymns, collection and whatnot, although the "legality" of the benediction gave her some secret concern. Mary Roberts was the preacher and gave the half hour's sermon.

EVANGELIST MEETING

The evangelist meeting they secured by means of prayer. At least it was this way. The evangelists went around putting up their tent and trusting in the Lord to provide both speakers and money. The caravan turned up one afternoon and asked to speak at the meeting that night. They said they were talking peace. Mrs Evangelist said they were preaching Jesus Christ. It was all the same to the peace caravan, and they suggested that since Christ advocated the brotherhood of man and peace on earth it might be the same thing in the end. Mrs Evangelist looked somewhat surprised but still dubious, and suddenly demanded, "Do you girls pray?" whereupon Mary Temple came to the rescue and said that they did, Mary Roberts being too amazed to say anything, and the peace caravan found itself on its knees by the benches in the canvas tent, praying with the Evangelists. Mrs Evangelist was satisfied—in fact, she was enthusiastic. The Lord had surely sent them. The meeting was theirs.

The most interesting and successful meetings were, of course, those with young people. In meetings at Ann Arbor, Northwestern university, and Madison, Wisconsin, were students informed and alive to the peace question, and discussions used to last for hours. In Madison a group of eleven stayed on after a supper meeting had been officially adjourned, and talked for two hours. It included a political science professor from Oxford college, in Ohio, a man who had worked in Turkey for four years, an Armenian girl, a law student from Princeton, an avowed pacifist whose brother was a reserve officer, the young Congregationalist minister and his wife and miscellaneous students.

MET ENTERTAINING PEOPLE

One of the greatest joys is meeting an endless assortment of curious and entertaining people. There was the Seventh-day Adventist who proclaimed at the end of a meeting that the caravan was in league with the devil. One afternoon the minister whom they happened to be visiting turned out to be the National chaplain of the American legion. He was cordiality itself, and in a two hours' conversation avoided committing himself on every question they asked him, save the bill to conscript capital in time of war, which the Legion is pushing hard. There was Mr Robert Bruce McPherson, member of Rotary, who removed his feet from the desk just long enough to remark that he had no use for these peace-at-any-price societies, and didn't care to hear what they had to say, anyhow. That was that. It took several hours and pie a la mode to calm Mary Temple's ruffled feelings. There were always those who tried to convert the caravaners, but they returned the heathen they had left, and most of Michigan, or great hunks of it, are still praying for their swift salvation.

Nothing has been said about what they talked about in their meetings and it is the first question that is asked them. Those interested may rest assured that material for speeches never ran out, and strangely enough the more they talked about peace the more interested they became in it. In spite of financial difficulties, in Madison they bought eight dollars worth of second-hand books—histories of the great war, books on military training and political science.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF CARAVANS

What the caravans achieved is very difficult to say. What they contributed toward any degree of success is not so difficult. The fact that they were college students, that they appeared in a disreputable Ford and did not ask for money aided considerably, but principally the fact that they represented the Society of Friends was what made it at all possible. Many times, to the unending surprise of the caravaners themselves, ministers had only to learn that the team was sent out by Friends to open their doors and offer any meeting they had, with freedom to say whatever they chose.

There is a tremendous challenge to the Society of Friends in that very fact, that so sincere, so well-known, and so respected has been their stand on the peace question that the very name of Friends acts as a passport to many groups and many sects. It is through the peace caravans that the Society of Friends is not only carrying on work that will answer the challenge of this past reputation, but is also training young people who can become leaders in the peace movement.

THIS ISSUE

AS ANNOUNCED in the January issue, and in the Bi-monthly, this issue was to be devoted to "Undergraduate Thetas you'd enjoy knowing," alumnæ having been featured in January. Well—it is so devoted: but—it is not representative because less than half of the college chapters sent in copy, and less than half of those sent pictures to illustrate their copy. Hence the slimness of the issue!!

While proud of the material in the issue, the editor is keenly disappointed, because it falls so short of fulfilling its promise, and because she knows many Thetas will be disappointed to find no names from their chapters written here.

It is our good fortune to share with readers this month, the study of vocational opportunities for college girls in Chicago, which was prepared for Mortar board. Later we hope to have such studies from other cities, and suggest that some alumnæ chapter undertake such a survey of its city.

Chapter letters appear in the usual form—that is as received, with redundancy omitted—again in this issue. Why?

Well, to the question in the January issue as to whether or not the publication of chapter letters should be continued, there were 126 replies. Just one reply didn't put up a plea to have the chapter letter retained, and its writer urged the publication of more and more personals about the doings of alumnæ, young and old.

And so—unless much more disapproval of this Chapter news section becomes articulate from the vast number of silent readers, it will continue as a feature of the magazine—except for an occasional special occasion.

A'LOUISE TRESTER

Vice president of Tassels, women's pep organization, the costume of which she wears in this picture—red sweater, white skirt, white sneakers. An expert bowler and skilled horsewoman. Member of Silver serpent last, her junior, year.

RUTH McCORMICK

These two attractive Thetas are not only among the most popular coeds on the Nebraska campus, but they also help to belie the old adage that beauty must be dumb, for both are students of Phi Beta Kappa rank. Last year they transferred to Nebraska from Beta Gamma, and affiliated with Rho in January.

FERN NEWSOM

Mary Eleanor Aldrich is the daughter of Nebraska's well-known novelist, Bess Streeter Aldrich, and bids fair to follow in her mother's footsteps, for her writings have three times won prizes and a number of them have been published. Mary Eleanor is a member of Chi Delta Phi, literary club; of the Kindergarten-primary club; and of Y.W.C.A.

IRENE RUWE

Rush captain, Panhellenic delegate, and winner, last year, of the prize given at initiation to the pledge with the highest scholarship, is also Rho's general delivery agent. "Sammy," her Paige roadster, has probably carried more Thetas more miles than has any other car in Theta history.

A SIGMA TRIO

HELEN SPENCE

Helen is representative of senior women on Student administration council, secretary of the Intercollegiate debating union. When she was elected chapter president, she resigned as vice-president of Polity club, retired from debating, and gave up most of her social service work. She does well in her course, Political science; last year grading third, first of the women, in this difficult course.

Mary, a swimmer when she came to college, is a valued member of the women's swimming team. Her speed is highly developed, her diving a pleasure to watch. With curly red hair, bright blue eyes, Mary never neglects the social side of college, few parties could get along without her. And this week she leaves for Ottawa to be presented.

MARY WYNDOW

ALPHA RHO

EDNA LASS

Charter member Mortar board; just a mite of a girl—a scant 100 pounds—despite her challenge to consume more potatoes than any other girl. Many campus problems are brought to her, for she is ready and willing, level-headed, conversant with the college's traditions and customs.

ELIZABETH FRARY

Two months ago, at the Settlement music school in Philadelphia any afternoon you might have seen a slender, fair-haired girl, for Betty worked in the office of the school in the afternoons while studying violin with Emanuel Zetlin. Then neuritis developed in her arm and she had to give up her music temporarily, returning here to resume her college work. In the past no university convocation, or musical program here was complete without a violin number by Betty. She is a leader as well as an "A" student.

CELEBRITIES

FRANCES DRIVER

"She's the first beauty prize winner whose picture I have taken who didn't get out her powder puff, and refinish her nose," so the camera man characterized Frances when sent to take her picture as "Miss Vanity Fair"—the most beautiful woman on campus by decision of John Gilbert.

She has been in the beauty section of the annual and will be in this year's May court.

MONTEE MOYLE

You would enjoy knowing this vivacious Titian blonde—Montee Moyle, one of the outstanding seniors on campus. Neither the annual nor the weekly paper could get along without Montee, for she is society editor of Chronicle and Co-ed business manager of Chanticleer. Montee is always having a good time along with her work. It is rumored that she will be May Queen this year.

MAP OF ALPHA

 (5) Music school; (6) Public speaking hall; (7) Everywhere.

GUIDE BOOK

Instructions for using the map of Alpha for a tour to find Thetas you would like to know

WE RECOMMEND that in taking this tour you start and finish at Alpha's chapter house—the center of all Theta activities. The trip has been so planned that you may see at least some important phases of DePauw college life.

1. Alpha is especially proud of two seniors, Mary Jo Springer and Helen Brewerton, president and vice-president of the chapter, who are members of Mortar board. Both, active in campus affairs, are outstanding students too. Mary Jo has distinguished herself in French club, Rifle, Swimming, Women's Sports association board, and Alpha Mu Pi military sponsors. Helen has shown her capability in Y.W.C.A. Cabinet and Political science club.

2. Betty Lou Hunter, sophomore, has a splendid scholastic record. At the end of freshman year she won a Rector scholarship, tying for the highest number of points made by a freshman. Betty Lou is the only girl in the university now holding a Rector scholarship, which annually amounts to $200 for her remaining years in college. She is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic organization.

3. Prominent in campus journalism are Margaret Harvey and Betty Neely, both members of Theta Sigma Phi. These two juniors are on the DePauw staff, Margaret as feature editor, Betty as columnist for "Shirting the campus." In addition, they belong to Tusitala, select literary group. Betty is editor of the woman's section of Mirage, university yearbook, and on the board of DePauw magazine. Margaret holds the treasurership of the Association of women students, is a member of Student affairs committee and of Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic organization.

4. Dorothy Shideler is interested in athletics. She is on the interhouse swimming, rifle, and basketball teams, and on the class swimming and rifle teams. She is social chairman of Woman sport association and so on its board. Dot is a member of Naiad, swimming organization; is life-guard for the girls' plunge hour; is an examiner of Red Cross life saving corps. She placed in the annual beauty contest, an evidence not only of good looks, but also of popularity.

5. Helen Keith, senior in music, is a talented contralto singer, a member of Mu Phi Epsilon. She has had a number of prominent parts in local musical productions. Her most outstanding rôle probably was in Carmen, May 17 and 18, 1928, when not only her splendid voice but also her remarkable acting was complimented. She is a member of Girls' glee club and of the DePauw choir. In Hulda of Holland, musical comedy, presented February 7 and 8, Helen took the part of "Vrouw Cats." She has been assigned the part of "Allan-a-Dale" in Robin Hood, to be given in the Spring. In spite of the temperamental disposition usually expected of musical genius and red hair, Helen makes a splendid house manager.

6. Sarah Crouch, pledge, has had the unusual honor of being chosen in her freshman year as a member of Duzer Du, dramatic organization, being one out of five girls elected to Duzer Du this year. In a Christmas play, Rich man poor man, she had the lead. She also is to have a lead part in The music master, March 1 and 2.

7. Mary Lou Whitecomb represents the social side of fraternity life. She goes to parties and parties. At the razz banquet she was given the "kiddie car" for getting around so much. She is also one of the campus beauties.

Now that you have completed this tour by map we invite you to come in person.

FELLOWSHIP AWARD

WASHINGTON ALUMNÆ CHAPTER of Kappa Alpha Theta has been asked to take the fellowship department of the Loan and fellowship committee. The important task of awarding the second fellowship requires sincere study and investigation. The chapter committee is studying the awarding of fellowships by various foundations, hoping to determine the best policy for the fraternity to follow in making this award. In the next issue conditions and requirements of the fellowship award will be announced.

Business opportunities for college women in Chicago

Through the courtesy of Mary Margaret Kern, editor of Mortar board quarterly, this helpful article is reprinted from that magazine.

It represents a study of the employment situation for college women, made by Miss Kern, while a graduate student at Northwestern university, 1927-28. Mary Margaret is a graduate of Purdue where she was active in Alpha Chi chapter, and winner of the Flora Roberts Medal, awarded annually to Purdue's best all-around woman senior.

THIS report is the result of about twenty-five or thirty trips into the City of Chicago and the personal visiting by the author, of the employment agencies and well-known women mentioned. Each individual proved a great help in recommending other capable agencies, and it was with the co-operation of all that the entire report came into being.

To Miss Margaretta Fenn of the Northwestern Personnel office goes the credit for Part III, which treats the opportunities for college women in the city of Chicago. Her report is much cut down to occupy space in this article. Miss Fenn's survey in its entirety will be in our hands by the fall of 1928.

For clearness I wish to divide the manuscript into the following headings:

- I. Where to go.
- II. Specialized schools.
- III. Survey of opportunities for college women in business.
- IV. Places visited, not included in "Where to go."

Every person and organization mentioned in the article is absolutely reliable so far as can be ascertained and every precaution has been taken to see that only reliable names are included. There are other organizations of the same nature as the agencies and schools mentioned and no doubt some of them are equally as good. However, the ones included here have been personally recommended and furnish the nucleus for an excellent and as complete as possible survey of Chicago for the business woman.

This should be only a beginning for an ever growing report on Chicago. Of necessity, such a survey can never be complete unless kept up to date year by year. Employment agencies, schools and businesses come and go. Girls entering Chicago in search of positions and training will come into contact with reliable agencies and schools not mentioned in the following pages.

Only by the complete cooperation of the groups in the schools in whose hands this report falls, can it be of value to them in keeping it up to date and adding to it.

This survey does not mean to give free publicity or advertising to the organizations mentioned herein. It is an unbiased statement of facts as they are. It is to be hoped that such a survey can be made of all large cities in the United States, such surveys to be placed in the hands of ambitious college girls through the auspices of Mortar board.

I. WHERE TO GO

A. CHICAGO COLLEGIATE BUREAU OF OCCUPATIONS—5 S. Wabash, 1816 Mallers building; Phone: State 5336.

This organization is sponsored by the Chicago alumnae associations of leading universities and colleges as a place where college women may obtain vocational counsel and aid. It is a non-profit making organization.

The work of this bureau is divided into three principal divisions: (1) Placement work; (2) Information and counsel; (3) Research, investigation of opportunities and problems that may apply to college women.

Fees. A registration fee of one dollar is asked to cover the cost of securing references and making the necessary entries in the bureau records. The charge for securing a permanent position is the amount equal to ten per cent of the salary received for the first three months, one-third of which is payable at the end of each of the first three months. If maintenance is received in addition to salary, commission is also charged on it, rating it at $50.00 a month. The charge for securing a temporary position is six per cent, payable when the engagement terminates, or in monthly installments if the position lasts more than one month. If maintenance is received in addition to salary, commission is also charged on it, rating it at $50.00 a month.

Personal observations. You will find the personnel of this bureau very courteous and willing to help you. You receive high class service in return for your fees. You can feel absolutely sure that the work done by the organization is reliable, it is especially interested in the college girl. They will try to fill any type of position in which a girl is interested. Mrs Florence Schee Robnett is the Managing director, and you will find her very kind and helpful.

B. ZINSER PERSONNEL SERVICE-EMPLOYMENT AGENCY—140 S. Dearborn; Phone: Randolph 2468.

Personal comments. No information is included concerning this agency. Reports concerning it are very favorable. It would be safe to try it.

C. Y.W.C.A.—59 East Monroe Street; Phone: Randolph 2420.

The Y.W.C.A. conducts a form of employment agency and vocational guidance through its offices in all the large cities. It is handled under the auspices of the national board. The employment secretary of Chicago is Miss Harriet Houghton.

Fees. At the present time, the fee for securing a permanent job for a girl, is only $2.00. However, this is subject to change in a short while.

Personal observations. The Y.W.C.A. deals more particularly with the working girl who has not been able to go to college. However, they will be very courteous to you, and will do all that they can to be of help along any line of position that you may desire. It is much more inexpensive to use the Y.W. service than other agencies.

D. Y.W.C.A. NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY, EVANSTON. University hall; Phone: University 1900.

Personal observations. The Y.W. at Northwestern deals mostly with part-time jobs, but occasionally have a call for a full-time job. You will find them interested in you, and there is no fee at all. One should not call on them in first instance, however. They are more interested in Northwestern students.

E. WOMEN'S NATIONAL JOURNALISTIC REGISTER—225 N. Michigan avenue; Phone: Dearborn 0199.

The Register was founded in 1920 by a national society of women journalists for the purpose of assisting publishers and business houses to solve their personnel problems. The Woman's National journalistic register, Inc. maintains an active file of trained women workers of the high type that goes with a background of culture and education. It is a non-profit organization. It is sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi.

Reporters, editors, advertising copy writers, statisticians, executives, secretaries, free lance writers, publicity women, research workers, proof readers, critics, correspondents, circulation managers, and personnel experts comprise the list of registrants. Any position or vocational guidance that you wish along the line of Journalism, or newspaper work, is handled by this Bureau.

Fees. Registration fee, $1.00. On salaries below and including $35.00 a week, commission equal to fifteen per cent of amount received for the first eight weeks. On salaries of $36 and including $50 a week, commission equal to twenty per cent of amount received for the first eight weeks. On salaries of $51 per week and upward, commission equal to twenty-five per cent of amount received for the first eight weeks. Ten per cent of the total commission is discounted if the entire commission is paid within ten days of accepting position.

Personal observations. Mrs S. S. Dibelka has charge of this Register, and you will like her very much. This is a fine place to go if you are interested in strictly journalistic jobs. They will also advise you and have a good library of books on the subject. Other bureaus handle this type of job, but not as a specialization as does the Register.

F. AMERICAN COLLEGE BUREAU—310 S. Michigan avenue, Room 1639, Straus building.

This is strictly a bureau for teachers, and especially for those who have master's degree or graduate work. Mrs Grace Harris Keller is a director.

Fees. There is no registration fee. A commission of five per cent of the total compensation for the first full year, including summer session, if any, becomes due upon the acceptance of a position where the services of the Bureau have been used either by the candidate or the employer. For short time positions, (three months or less) the commission is ten per cent.

Personal Observation. This bureau is only for those who are interested in teaching, and who have had advanced training beyond a bachelor's degree. This report purposely omits teachers' agencies. Mrs Keller would be glad to help you if you want to inquire farther into teacher's employment.

G. COOK COUNTY CIVIL SERVICE, CHICAGO CIVIL SERVICE—CITY HALL; Phone: Main 0447.

If you are interested in a civil service position, which includes some such as city hall clerks, stenographers in the city hall, bacteriologists, social survey work, investigators of public welfare, librarians, and numerous others, you should apply at these offices to find out about taking the civil service exam which must be passed before such a job can be secured.

H. COUNCIL OF SOCIAL AGENCIES—203 N. Wabash street, Phone: Franklin 2429.

This is an association of major welfare organizations of Chicago for the economical and efficient performance of joint services. It is a clearing house so that the social work of different organizations will not overlap. Such councils are maintained in 55 large cities.

This is not an employment agency, but they will be glad to direct you if you are interested in social service work.

I. LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS—203 N. Wabash street.

If you are interested in political work, you can secure help here.

J. ILLINOIS REPUBLICAN WOMEN'S CLUB—360 N. Michigan avenue.

See above (I).

K. MISS HELEN BENNETT—Woman's world's fair—360 N. Michigan avenue; Phone: Central 6961.

The Woman's world's fair is a vivid and far-visioned exposition of the progress and achievements of the women of many countries and races, from the Indian squaw with her beadwork and baskets, to the scientific woman with her research work. The fair is held in the spring of each year at the Coliseum, and lasts a week.

It includes—two hundred occupations in which women have won success. New and elaborate educational exhibits, exhibitions by women's stores of Chicago. Exhibitions of foreign countries. A program of folk dancing, folk songs, demonstrations, speeches, fashion shows, etc.

The vocational value of the fair is stressed every year, and Mortar board cooperated with the authorities of the fair in a Vocational guidance day, May 26, 1928. College girls and women are invited to see the work of successful women in the lines in which the individual visitors are interested. Mortar board girls in cap and gown, guided the visitors around on this day, and received a great deal of good experience.

Personal observations. Miss Bennett was former director of the Collegiate bureau, and you will find her very helpful if you need any advice. However, she does not conduct any sort of bureau. If possible, it will be well for any girl who has the opportunity to attend the Woman's world's fair. It will be of great help to see what women are doing, and to get vocational guidance. You may talk to any women that you wish who are represented at the Fair.

L. BOARD OF EDUCATION—460 S. State street; Phone: Wabash 3401.

Miss Anne E. Davis, head of Vocational guidance for the Chicago schools might prove of help to you here. She deals mostly with people of high school age. However, the bureau has compiled information on every vocation, and could help you out, if you want to ask for advice. It is not an employment agency.

M. MARSHALL FIELDS, MANDELS, THE FAIR DEPARTMENT STORES all have Personnel departments, and these should be applied to when looking for a job along the department store line.

PERSONAL COMMENTS

1. Each university group interested in specialized schools and employment agencies for girls in Chicago should make it a point to have its name on the mailing list of each school and agency. In that way, the current catalogues of each school will be on file, and the girls who are interested can look up the catalogue immediately upon desiring information.

2. Unless otherwise indicated, only girls attend the school.

3. Moser business college for one, guarantees its graduates a job. Where statistics were available this phase of work was indicated in the report.

4. Each of these schools offers summer sessions of some sort, and offers opportunities to the girls who do not wish to enroll as candidates for a degree. Information from the catalogues should clear up this point.

5. The Board of education, has a complete file of all schools in Chicago, and if a girl would want to go into a certain line further than has been done here, she should get in touch with the school department of the board, and there she can get a complete list, but this does not include any sort of guarantee of the excellence or reliability of the school. The Board of education has also an incomplete file of schools in other cities.

6. Often bureaus of employment can recommend specialized schools to your notice.

III. SURVEY OF OPPORTUNITIES FOR COLLEGE GIRL IN BUSINESS IN CHICAGO

(A summary of the report made by Miss Margaretta Fenn of the Personnel department of Northwestern university, and used by the courtesy of that department.)

The information in this paper is a compilation of data obtained from 130 interviews made in 1927 of business houses in Chicago, and because of its recent date should be interesting and informational concerning conditions as they exist there concerning opportunities for the college woman.

Because every organization in Chicago could not be visited, the most outstanding and typical ones were picked. A cross-section of business that would include most phases of industry was cut out and the report goes from an exclusive gift shop in the Fine Arts building to the Stock yards, and from a fashionable Tea room to the American rolling mills. This is but an example of its diversity.

GENERAL COMMENTS

Too many college girls have difficulty in working in business because they feel as though they are better than the non-college employees. Too often the college graduate enters business with the idea of trying to reform it. And the college girls never want to start at the bottom.

Experience in a small concern is always a good preparation for a greater job. In all cases, a girl with an alert mind will find that her college education will stand her in good stead. Personality is, however, in the opinion of most employers, the greatest attribute for success.

You will notice that nearly all of the positions mentioned require specialized training in college, or specialized training after college. It is well to select your vocation and plan for it early.

IV. PLACES VISITED NOT INCLUDED IN I

These include the A.A.U.W. headquarters, Personnel departments at Northwestern university and Purdue university, the Counselor of women at Northwestern university, the Peoples trust and savings bank, the Chicago public library, and the Business and professional women's headquarters.

Each one of these groups was able to shed a great deal of light on the personnel problem, although not having any direct function in regard to employment or vocational guidance for women.

NATIONAL PANHELLENIC CONGRESS is an adventure in friendliness. It is a definite contribution made by college women to the college world, and through it to the great world outside. It antedated the League of nations and foretold the coming of the Peace pacts, Kellogg or otherwise, which shall repudiate all war.

Such an adventure should show us, now and then, a milestone along the road. There should be something to cheer us on if we do not see the fulfillment of all our hopes within the few years since the founding of the movement. I found such a milestone the other evening.

I was walking up First avenue in New York city and I came to the Panhellenic club house, a beautiful building, towering for nearly thirty stories up to the sky with the East river and Long Island as a background. A milestone indeed, I thought. I wish I could give you something of the feeling of encouragement that I got from looking at that towering mass. So I argued, why not go in and see if it is as interesting as it looks.

The spacious entrance hall was gay with members and guests who had just finished dinner in the adjoining room. I followed them upstairs to the lovely lounge floor with its reception and card rooms; its library and great assembly hall where a concert was to be given at eight-thirty. Up and still up I went; through floor after floor of attractive bedrooms until the elevator boy announced "twenty-six." Here I found the Solarium and then I walked out on to the broad promenade which extends around the four sides of the building.

The city lay far below, its millions of lights twinkling up at me in orderly rows from city streets and in clusters and masses from Long Island and the far off Jersey shore. Over all swung the great air beacons, like friends keeping guard over the "lesser lights." I heard some one out there in the darkness saying "Oh! It's fairyland—on toast!"

A good many years it has taken us to climb to nearly thirty stories of such achievement, but our constant progress, "line upon line and precept upon precept," is sure and epitomizes the progress of the college woman. Like the Panhellenic itself, the New York Panhellenic club house is an adventure in friendliness.

GRACE SAWYER

PANHELLENIC HOUSE THETAS

TO BE in bustling New York and live at the Panhellenic house—what more could anyone desire? The Thetas are enjoying the house immensely—both the city alumnae, who frequently come to teas, luncheons and card parties, to say nothing of the Panhellenic ball which took place last month; and the girls who reside here permanently.

Ruth Boulden, Alpha Iota, was with us until the end of December, when she married Frederic Wright and moved to 15 West Fifty-first street. Margaret Coleman, Alpha Delta, who is taking an intensive course for the stage at the American laboratory theater, says she likes the Panhellenic house because it is the nearest thing to her environment at home that she has found in New York.

Rachel Williams, Beta Beta, is making a short stay, having just arrived in the city to study at Teachers' college and take courses at the American academy of dramatic arts. Another resident of the house is Margaret Ewing, also Beta Beta, who studied during the first semester at Columbia university and is doing clerical work now.

Blanch Alsop, Gamma, Maida Darnton, Omega, and Louise L'Engle, Alpha Delta, are all making the Panhellenic their home for the winter at least.

Evelyn Jensen Price, Alpha Psi, is a wonder in the Alpha Omega book shop in the building. Elizabeth Keck, Chi, has been acting as hostess in the tea room.

Recently Louise Bradley, Beta, stayed at the club between semesters at Radcliffe.

It is needless to tell of the unanimity of opinion that the Panhellenic house is almost too good to be true in that it combines charm and comfort with the greatest of all assets—interesting and congenial companions.

U. C. GIRLS FLEE FIRE IN KAPPA ALPHA THETA HOUSE

AWAKENED by the crackling of flames and the strong odor of smoke, Miss Margaret Martin, university student, aroused 22 of her fraternity sisters before their escape was cut off when fire, shortly before 8 o'clock this morning, swept through the upper story of the Kappa Alpha Theta house, 2723 Durant avenue.

Practically every piece of fire-fighting apparatus was called by Chief George Haggerty on a second alarm. For nearly an hour firemen fought desperately to save the house and to keep flames from spreading to neighboring fraternity houses.

Miss Martin, president, sleeping on the second floor of the house, was awakened shortly before 8 o'clock this morning by the roar of the fire as it swept through the attic and roof of the building. She leaped out of bed, dashed from her room into a smoke-filled hallway and to a telephone on the first floor from where she summoned firemen.

AWAKEN GIRLS

The girl then fought her way back to the second floor and with Mrs E. Watson, house mother, went from room to room waking the girls. Attired only in night dresses, the girls then were led downstairs and onto the front lawn by Miss Martin and Mrs Watson.

Firemen arrived within a few minutes after the first alarm was sounded. Fire Chief Haggerty ordered a second alarm sent in when the flames threatened to destroy the house and endangered nearby buildings.

After a stubborn fight, firemen finally put the fire under control and within a short time extinguished it. The entire roof on the building and a portion of the attic were destroyed at a loss of nearly $2,000. Water and smoke damage to the first and second stories added to the loss.

TWO ALARMS

On the second alarm, practically every piece of apparatus in the city responded. They were kept at the fire only a short time, however, then sent back to their various houses. Among the apparatus called was the new squad wagon which this morning made its debut as a fire wagon.

Members of neighboring fraternity houses aided the firemen in fighting the blaze. When the blaze had been put under control, the girls were allowed to enter the house and put on more suitable clothing.

The origin of the fire late today had not been determined.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Theta Clubs

Mrs Lowe's fine summary of alumnae chapter letters in the January issue made me proud indeed of our Theta alumnae chapters. They are fine groups and are doing very many worthwhile things. Long may they prosper! That article prompts me to tell also of the younger sisters of the alumnae chapters, the Theta clubs.

First, let me introduce our baby, the newest club, organized last November in Youngstown, Ohio. The seven Thetas now living there came from six college chapters in six different states and expect to enjoy their meetings every two months, alternating the club meeting with that of the City Panhellenic.

The best way to picture our older clubs will be in brief quotations from letters received since last fall. I am sorry that I cannot give you news thus of all our forty-nine clubs, but perhaps those not represented in this article will send me a message for a later Journal.

The Theta club in Albion, Michigan, gives an interesting scholarship. "After the sale of the lodge on the disbanding of Pi chapter a decade ago, our club placed the money at interest and used its yearly income for a banquet each Commencement week. Feeling that a less selfish use might be made of this money we established a loan scholarship for a worthy girl in Albion college. Now the fund is growing, what with the payment of the loan after two or three years when the young woman can meet the obligation and thus release the money to help others. In lieu of the former banquet we now have a pot-luck supper each year to which the husbands and children are invited and the event is a real jollification. Our nearest college chapter is Beta Pi at Michigan state. We have two Albion daughters there. The forming of this Theta club (with thirteen members) is perpetuating the friendships formed during Pi's existence and is making us alumnae enthusiastic members of Theta instead of mere 'has beens.'"

The Boise, Idaho, club reports closer cooperation with its university chapter than in the past. "This year the college girls seemed most eager for our help in the summer rushing, and we took charge of a bridge-dinner at the Idaho Country club here which seemed a success in every way. We helped in other ways with the rushing and then gave a rummage sale to recoup our financial status. This was a real success as we cleared over a hundred dollars in two days' effort." A later letter brought the encouraging news that Beta Theta pledged more Boise girls endorsed by the club than ever before. "During the holidays the Boise Theta club gave a Mother-daughter tea in honor of our girls home from the university. We enjoyed knowing the mothers as well as the daughters, and had a splendid representation of college members and alumnae owing to the number of guests in town."

"We Hawaii Thetas (in Honolulu) were thrilled with the privilege of meeting our new Grand president a few weeks ago, and at an informal tea we exchanged ideas on various vital Theta topics. We regretted that Mrs Moore had to cut her visit in Hawaii short and are hoping that she will return for a longer stay. She made a deep impression upon the girls who had never known her before, and we all feel that Theta is to be congratulated upon having her as our leader."

The Lafayette club is also glad to report an officer guest. They called a special meeting to discuss with Miss Green, Alpha Chi's plans for a new chapter house, and their secretary writes, "We as alumnae are hoping to buckle down to some real work in connection with the new house and to make a great deal more money than we have ever made before." (That club is famous for its fruit cake. If they would advertise in the next November Journal, perhaps many Thetas would like to feast on their fine cooking next Christmas time.)

"The Lansing alumnae club has had three meetings during the fall. One of these was a dinner at the chapter house with the college chapter, and another a Christmas party at which many lovely gifts were presented to the house. The club has been sponsoring the sale of Christmas cards and has also conducted a rummage sale."

"The Kentucky Thetas celebrated Founders'-day with a luncheon here in Louisville. There were seventeen of us, the largest gathering yet. Two came from Lexington and one from Frankfort, and to the usual 'faithful few' in Louisville we have added three newcomers. Mrs A. B. Sawyer gave a short history and story of the founding of Kappa Alpha Theta and then we all joined in singing some of our songs."

The Memphis club began its year with a meeting in the new home of one of its members. They were particularly glad to welcome back Ada Raines "from a two years' stay in Rome where she was an instructor in Miss Risser's school for American girls." Another of their members, Mary Heiskell, was "a most active and efficient president of the Little theater last year."

The Miami Thetas were anticipating an especially fine Founders'-day party now that Mrs Lowe has joined the club. She was to tell them of the last convention.

The Muncie, Indiana, club reported plans for an interesting meeting: "The younger members of the club are going to give initiation as it is now, for the ones who have been away from college for a long time."

At this writing I am just home from a happy Founders'-day supper in New Haven with eighteen Thetas from thirteen college chapters. The club there is coming to mean more and more to its members.

The Pullman club heard a convention report from the college chapter's delegate. "We have nineteen alumnæ here. Our meetings are interesting and are well attended. Last Saturday we entertained the pledges of the college chapter at luncheon."

"We have enthusiastic luncheons at the homes the first Saturday of each month (in Rockford, Illinois). Sometimes we have fifteen or twenty, but more often only a dozen. One girl comes fifty miles nearly every time. We have seven or eight Rockford girls who are Thetas in college now, from whom we get recruits during vacations. For the last five or six years this has been essentially a Theta town. All of the best known girls in town who go away to college seem to be Thetas each year. If this continues, sooner or later we should have a thriving alumnæ chapter."

One member of the Sacramento Valley Theta club is eager for the club to raise money, but another writes confidentially (I hope she will excuse my quoting her!), "I loathe raising money with all my soul. I am so proud of the Thetas here that I am delighted just to associate with them." Far be it from me to take part in this argument for and against money-raising and that comes to me from many groups. There are always fine uses to be made of money raised, some groups become more united by working together for a common purpose and enjoy doing so, but others feel that they are working in so many other groups that are out for necessary dollars that they prefer to keep their Theta associations purely on a friendship basis. I feel that this question is one that each club must decide locally in the light of what is best for that particular club.

In Salem, Oregon, "we are meeting once a month and usually have a most interesting discussion of our two close chapters at Eugene and Corvallis. We hope to aid them with a rushing party during the holidays and later with some gifts for the houses."

"Our San Antonio club is quite a thriving one, I think, and most congenial. We meet once a month in the respective homes of our members and our time is spent most profitably; we just visit and chatter and talk madly and merrily for these two hours or so, getting acquainted with each other and receiving inspiration from other Thetas whose noble calling is mostly that of 'mother' and home-maker. However, we have a school-teacher, or must I say pedagogue? or two, an energetic real estate lady, and occasionally an undergraduate member from Alpha Theta to help us maintain a balance."

My correspondent in San Antonio neglects to tell in this picture of their club that the group (by making the fraternity known in that city), has been of inestimable value to Alpha Theta in its influence upon San Antonio girls who attend the state university.

"Our club in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, has a membership of sixteen this year and meets once a month at the homes of different girls. Our meetings are entirely social. In November, we gave a Bridge party, the proceeds of which we sent to Alpha Rho chapter to help swell the building fund."

HOPE DAVIS MECKLIN

"WE ARE SEVEN" AT MORTAR BOARD CONVENTION

THERE'S a Theta," someone would call out, and we would crane our necks to try to glimpse another girl who wore a Theta pin beside her Mortar board emblem at the Mortar board convention in California last August. Here and there at the business meetings, we saw a Theta kite; when the group picture was taken, Theta badges flashed in and out; now and then Theta would meet Theta for a little chat amid the flurry of Mortar board proceedings.

When the first delegates arrived at Camp Curry in Yosemite national park, California, for the Mortar board convention, the hostess announced that if there were enough members of the different fraternities present, a Panhellenic luncheon would be held. It was such a busy and democratic gathering, and we were all meeting so many interesting people, that there was no grouping by fraternities except at the luncheon. When all Thetas attending the convention "got together" we found that we were seven, the greatest number representing any one fraternity among the fifty people present. Theta lacked but one for a whole table at the Panhellenic luncheon where Mortar board and Theta news were discussed and remarks were punctuated by "Oh, you're from so and so, aren't you? Well, maybe you know so and so?"

Delegates from active Mortar board and Theta chapters were Virginia Poindexter, University of Arizona; Peg Worth, Swarthmore college; Elsie Mardorf, Washington university (St. Louis); and Louise Johnson, Ohio State university. All of these girls worked on convention committees and were active in convention business. Anne Hoehler Stotz (Mrs W. F.), a graduate of Cornell university, as Director of Section 1 of Mortar board, made her report of chapter standings in her section for the past two years, and was re-appointed Director at the convention. Catherine Horan, Purdue university, 1928, and Mary Margaret Kern, Purdue, 1927, completed the list of seven Thetas. Mary Margaret Kern was elected editor of the Mortar board quarterly at convention, making her a member of the national council of the organization. She also made several reports in connection with personnel, the national project of Mortar board.

MARY MARGARET KERN

In November, 1928, Mortar board installed a chapter at University of South Dakota. There was one Theta, Edna Lass, among the six charter members, and two Theta alumnae, Margaret Reid and Winifred Reynolds, among the nine alumnae initiates. The installation banquet-dance was at the Kappa Alpha Theta chapter house.

When the William and Mary Mortar board chapter was installed December 8, 1928, one of the three honorary members, Emily M. Hall; two of the six charter members, Phyllis Logan and Elizabeth Sexton; and two of the thirteen alumnae initiates, Ruth James and Myree Hutchings, were members of Kappa Alpha Theta.

FIFTY-NINE YEARS OLD

Radiograms reporting the celebration of Kappa Alpha Theta's founding, January 27, 1870

SPOKANE: In spite of a heavy snow storm, the largest number, 39, ever to celebrate Founders'-day here, feasted and visited together January 26. There were toasts, music, and the Ritual closing of the banquet.

Louisville, Kentucky: Seventeen Thetas gathered at the celebration sponsored by the Louisville club. The program included a short history of the fraternity songs, and a roll call showing a number of college chapters represented. It was a "successful meeting, adding some new members to the club, too."

Detroit: Eighty Thetas gathered here for luncheon, representing more than thirty college chapters. The guests of honor were the Grand secretary, Miss Green, and the District president, Miss Lynch. The most thrilled guests were Beta Pi's thirteen initiates, who had been initiated early that morning so as to be at the luncheon as real Thetas. Eta's pledges, also present, were most envious of these new Thetas. The two college chapters gave a musical and reading program, following talks by Miss Green, and Mrs Brook, president of Detroit alumnæ.

Colorado: Denver alumnæ was hostess to Beta Iota and Beta Gamma chapters for the birthday party on February 2, at which Mrs Moore, Grand president, was the guest of honor.

Wichita: This alumnæ chapter had as guest of honor the state chairman of Kansas, Janet Edelbute, "the first official visit" this seven year old chapter has had. After a delightful dinner, they played bridge, and had such a good time they stayed until almost midnight.

Washington, D.C.: To celebrate the birthday, fifty Thetas, representing 23 college chapters, lunched together at the Cosmos club. Mrs Mecklin, Alumnæ secretary, was the guest of honor. After her charming speech, the Founders'-day ritual was given, much to the delight of many present who had long been away from college initiations.

Northern California: Two alumnæ chapters, Berkeley and San Francisco, and two college chapters, Phi and Omega, had a joint celebration at the Mark Hopkins hotel in San Francisco. The elaborate program of speeches and music was, seemingly, broadcast during the Kappa Alpha Theta radio hour. Mrs Moore, Grand president, was the guest of honor; 140 Thetas attended, representing 25 college chapters. A feature of the evening was a many-tiered cake, bearing 59 lighted candles.

Oklahoma City: Here the alumnae chapter invited all Thetas of the state to celebrate together—and they came, 150 of them, from all over the state, including the college members of Alpha Omicron and Beta Zeta. Oklahoma City alumnae presented each of these colleges' chapters with a silver service; they in turn entertained with stunts, between the more formal toasts.

New Haven, Connecticut: Nineteen Thetas from thirteen college chapters had a birthday supper together, with Mrs Mecklin, Alumnae secretary, as guest of honor. Much pleasure and enthusiasm were in evidence—so much that the five Thetas who had driven down from Hartford, went home determined to have a Theta club in their city too.

Kansas City: Seventy-nine Thetas formed a chain around the tables, repeating the Preamble before being seated. The guests of honor were the District president, Alline Smith Wright and the "perfect Theta," Jessie Baldrige Lebrecht, former Grand president. College girls from Kappa and Alpha Upsilon joined the alumnae for this banquet.

Indianapolis: Some four hundred Thetas gathered for this, the always largest birthday party: the college girls of Alpha, Beta, Gamma, Alpha Chi, as well as alumnae from all over Indiana, joining Indianapolis alumnae to honor the Founders and hear the guests of honor, Mary Bragg Hughes, District president, and Margaret Killen Banta, Grand vice-president. The Theta State dance followed that evening.

Philadelphia: This was a joint celebration, two college chapters, Alpha Beta and Beta Eta, joining the alumnae chapter. Eighty Thetas were present and enjoyed the occasion, though disappointed when the guest of honor, Virginia Smith Zehmer, District president, couldn't come because of illness; and saddened by the unexpected death of one of the most active alumnae, Margaret Coles McAllester, who was on the program. Alpha Beta was delighted when Mrs Walker announced that the Swarthmore Theta lodge was clear of debt; and Beta Eta was charmed by the gift from Philadelphia alumnae of a lovely pewter tea service for its new lodge.

Topeka: More than a hundred Thetas, including all undergraduates from Alpha Upsilon, assembled for this birthday party which had Jessie Baldrige Lebrecht, former Grand president, as honor guest.

Columbus, Ohio: For the joint celebration here see the chapter letters of Alpha Gamma and Gamma deuteron.

Wisconsin Gatherings: In Madison the alumnae chapter and Psi gathered at the latter's house for a birthday dinner. The guest of honor was Miss Green, Grand secretary.

In Milwaukee, the alumnae some forty strong, had a delightful dinner, while the would-be-guest of honor, the Grand secretary, spent the evening (beside the preceding afternoon, and most of the following night) in a train stalled in a snow bank. However, she finally arrived and had a pleasant tea, and dinner with those alumnae who could crowd "extra Theta dates" into their calendar.

In Appleton, the alumnae chapter and Alpha Psi had a formal dinner, with two guests of honor—the Grand vice-president, and the Grand secretary, when they had expected no "celebrities." However they rose beautifully to the occasion and gave the guests, and we hope themselves, a good time.

Albion, Michigan: Twelve Thetas, ten members of the club and two guests, Mrs Inez Croman Mellenkamp of Grass Lake and Mrs Mary Anthony Hunt of Jackson, celebrated at a luncheon. The chief discussion following the candle service for the Founders, was a discussion of the scholarships the club awards to Albion college junior and senior girls.

Miami: Honor to Kappa Alpha Theta's Founders was shown by Miami Theta club, February 8, at a dinner in Cloister inn. The nineteen alumnae present represented ten college chapters.

The long banquet table, over which Nina McAdam, Beta Nu, president, presided, was colorfully significant with its tropical flame vine decorations and its black and gold tapers. Place cards bore hand painted pansies.

Mrs Lucy Merrill Conklin, Pi, was toastmistress. Mrs Carol Merchant Lowe, Mu, associate alumnae secretary, told of the earliest days of the fraternity, its Founders and some of the prominent Theta leaders today. She concluded with the candle ceremony dedicating Thetas anew to service and loyalty to Kappa Alpha Theta. Norma Davis, Beta Nu, spoke on the fraternity's expansion in the south.

Reminiscences of college days and chapter life, were related during the evening, interspersing the program of Theta songs. Mrs Gladys Hibbard Stranahan, Chi, Fort Lauderdale, wrote for the occasion a poem to Miss Kappa Alpha Theta.

WHY I AM A THETA

I SHALL never forget that bright sunshiny day in early autumn that I met her—those clear, bright, blue eyes looked into mine and I became forthwith her slave. Those smiling eyes, soft red lips so easily provoked into merry laughter, her heavy blonde hair unshorn in all its glory, made her everything that a worshiping young high school girl could desire in her favorite teacher—her ideal. For all her outward loveliness, I did not find her lacking in inward beauty in my association with her in the English department of our school. I never perhaps overcame a certain tinge of awe when I was near her—yet her happy spontaneous laughter, her devotion to her work gave me an incentive to make my goal nothing short of her—the noblest and finest womanhood.

Just above her heart she wore a pin in the shape of a kite. I became used to it and learned to associate some of her ideals with that little pin. There was something infinitely different about it—an intangible something that set it off from every other pin I had ever seen. I loved it because it meant so much to the one I loved.

When I came to college, I do not quite know how or why it was, a girl smiled at me and there was something in that smile that took me back to that sunshiny day when I had met my ideal—yes, it was a Theta smile and above her heart was the same Theta symbol. I smiled back as best I could—I hope it was a Theta smile!

And that is why I am a Theta.

ELEANOR HARBAGE

Actually being a Theta daughter! could anything be more thrilling! I had met girls both alumnae and actives wearing the kite but it hardly entered even my subconscious mind that I might some day be a Theta.

As all green little freshmen feel when they arrive at college I hardly knew "what it was all about" as far as fraternities and fraternity rushing went. But it wasn't long before I learned, not what rushing was but that the Thetas were the grandest girls on the campus. They constituted my ideal of all around girls, girls with whom I would be most congenial both in work and recreation and who could help me to gain the most from college life and education. They proved irresistible from the first night in the dormitory when we all piled in one of the rooms as is the way of all girls and I saw that we freshies were the only ones not wearing kites.

I had met Thetas before so I knew that the great personal attractiveness of the Thetas here was not peculiar to Beta Lambda but national. It was among such girls that I wished to make my college and life long friends and each day Theta means more and more to me.

ESTHER LOWE

The Fraternity Spirit

This remarkable expression of true fraternity spirit was quoted by Dr. Francis W. Shepardson, Beta Theta Pi, at the last Phi Kappa Tau convention.

“An old man, going a lone highway,
Came in the evening, cold and gray,
To a chasm vast, both deep and wide,
Through which was flowing a sullen tide.
The old man crossed in the twilight dim:
The sullen stream had no fears for him:
But he stopped, when safe, on the farther side,
And built a bridge to span the tide.
‘Old man,’ said a fellow pilgrim near,
‘You are wasting your strength in building here;
Your journey will end with the closing day;
You never again will pass this way;
You have crossed the chasm, deep and wide,
Why build you a bridge at eventide?’
‘Good friend, in the path I have come,’ he said,
There followeth after me today
A youth whose feet must pass this way.
This chasm which has been as naught to me,
To that fair-haired youth may a pitfall be.
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim;
Good friend, I am building this bridge for him’.”

Delta—University of Illinois

According to reports in the Daily Illini, the "flu" epidemic was nothing serious, but toward the last days of the pre-vacation period only those girls remained who had been able to convince the doctor that a temperature of 100 degrees or so was a mere nothing. These girls kept up Delta's annual custom of singing Christmas carols to the president of the university and to the friends and alumnae of the chapter. As a reward for their healthy constitutions and their willing spirit the committee planned an unusually good Christmas party.

The long Christmas vacation prepared all of us in one way or another for the semester exams. Three of our girls, Helen Bess Finch, Maxine Lill, and Maurine Taylor, graduate in February. Maurine Taylor has taken a position as dietitian in a California hospital.

Delta will start spring rushing at a dinner party February 6.

Eta—University of Michigan

No letter received.

Iota—Cornell University

December 16, Ithaca alumnae chapter entertained Iota at a Christmas party at the home of Mrs Louise Bontecou McKinney. After a buffet supper, unique presents accompanied by humorous jingles were distributed to the guests by Miss Green, who officiated in the absence of Santa Claus. We had a chapter party December 16, when we exchanged presents with our roommates at 1:30 A.M.

Iota provided songs, dance, refreshments, and decorations for a Christmas party at the Old ladies' home. We sang carols, presented some of our rushing stunts and distributed gifts furnished by the Y.W.C.A.

January 13 we gave a tea for the alumnae. Ruth Smith and Eleanor Foote poured.

Owing to illness in the alumnae chapter, the celebration of Founders'-day was postponed and combined with the initiation banquet. February 16 we initiated Marion Baitz, Rosanna Crow (sister of Marybelle), Phyllis Dooley, Mary Fitzrandolph, Helen Gosnell, Marion Kellogg, Elizabeth Tanzer, and Janet Wilson (daughter of Eva Capron Wilson). We had our banquet in the Dutch kitchen of the Ithaca hotel. Miss C. A. Law was a delightful toastmistress. Miss L. Pearle Green, Grand secretary, spoke on the fraternity, telling us interesting news of what chapters are doing in the middle west. Mrs Madeline Church Reed spoke for the alumnae, expressing their interest in and desire to know the chapter better. Thelma Powers welcomed the initiates, and Phyllis Dooley gave the response. Eleanor Eggleton passed on the bib and the title of Iota's baby to Marion Baitz, who is the youngest of the initiates. The benedicite was given by Mrs Anna Moon Hodder, in Ithaca for the year while Dr Hodder is an exchange professor in history.

20 February 1929

Mary Eleanor Smith

Eva Capron Wilson came up for her daughter's initiation.
Kathryn Power and Vivian Drehekenhahn were recent chapter house guests.

Kappa—University of Kansas

Kappa gave thirty books to the university library as a Christmas present. The money for these annual gifts comes from the May Sexton Agnew memorial fund.

The early dismissal of college on December 12, because of an influenza epidemic, prevented the carrying out of Kappa's holiday plans. It was impossible to have the annual Christmas dinner; but our annual entertainment of the football men, postponed because of the epidemic, took place January 9. After a buffet supper we danced, the girls doing the "cutting," and the men being "cut."

Our new housemother, Mrs. Clinkenburg of Ottawa, came January 28, to fill the place of Mrs. Ramseyer, who was unable to return after Christmas because of illness.

Several of us attended Founders'-day banquet of Kansas City alumnae January 26.

We had two days of informal rushing at the beginning of the new semester, pledging Virginia Jackson, Chicago; Dorothy Bradshaw, Tulsa, Oklahoma; Alice Doubleday, Fort Scott.

Initiation will be February 23, and the annual Spring Formal, March 1.

Esther Mullins took a prominent part in The whole town's talking, presented by the Dramatic club. Ernestine Sewell is on Jayhawker staff.

28 January 1929

Isabel Humphrey

Ruth Foster was married to Charles W. Doornbos in Oct. 1928. They live at 821 Johnstone st. Bartlesville, Okla.

Born to Mr and Mrs R. W. Seaman (Nelle Thomasen), a son, James Irving, in Dec.

Dorothy DeMott and Catherine Cates are attending Columbia Dramatic school in Chicago.

New address: Mrs Lawson A. Gilbert (Jean Anderson), 203 W. Wabash st. Winona, Minn.

Lambda—University of Vermont

Appointments of Thetas on recently announced Junior week committees: Anna Edmunds, Phoebe Flint, Mabel Freeman, and Frances Hazen. Jean Wappler and Elizabeth Cory were appointed to committees for the Sophomore hop.

Phoebe Flint was elected vice-president of Eta Sigma Phi, Greek society. Mabel Freeman was elected assistant business manager of Vermont literary magazine. Cora Eastman was elected secretary of the International relations club.

The rifle team, which last year won so many matches, has this year a promising outlook with Elizabeth Cory, Frances Hazen, Georgina Hubert, Elizabeth Robelen, and Rebecca Seaver as members.

A great deal of amusement recently was derived from a debate between Vermont women and Dartmouth on the much disputed subject of Benefits of coeducation. Mabel Freeman, an experienced debater, represented Theta on the team. The decision, of course, favored Vermont.

The annual Christmas concert of the women's Glee club was a success. A much enjoyed chorus included Elizabeth Cory, Georgina Hubert, Virginia Noyes, Margaret Rice, Helen Taylor, and Edith Vernon, with Margaret Corbin accompanist.

Burlington alumnae is entertaining us with a series of Sunday night suppers. The college chapter is divided into three groups, and each group is invited to three alumnae homes for suppers. The next supper is to be given after rushing with pledges the special guests.

Founders'-day was observed at the chapter house January 26. A supper, given by Burlington alumnae was followed by an entertainment of songs and stunts, by the college chapter. Mrs Genevieve Forbes Herrick was the guest of honor.

29 January 1929

Virginia Noyes

Born: to Mr and Mrs Bryan Powell (Elizabeth Baker) a daughter, Alice, Dec. 20.

Married: Elizabeth Howe and Clayton Jones, Dec. 22.

The engagement of Charlotte Stone to Lawrence Hince has been announced.

Mu—Allegheny College

Mu announces the pledging of Genevieve Bock, Erie, January 27.

Due to the usual conflict between examinations and Founders'-day, Mu postponed the banquet until February 6. The faculty decided that too much time was scheduled for examinations, so limited the period to six days, scheduling three two-hour exams a day.

Elizabeth Kelley is vice-president of Le Petit Salon, to which Mary Jane Barringer, Eleanor Flick, and Violet Troutman were elected in the fall. Mary Jane was initiated also by Phi Sigma Iota, Romance language club, and is secretary of the Oratorical board. Naomi Taylor is president of Student council, vice-president of Student government, and a charter member and vice-president of German club. Louise Hibbs is a member of History and political science club and on the staff of Kaldron. Margaret Helmbold is secretary of Quill club, to which Louise Power and Violet Troutman also belong. Peggy is secretary of junior, and Louise secretary of sophomore class. Louise Power is also on Freshman commission. Margaret Helmbold is on the staff of Literary monthly. Loraine Weeks and Clara Louise Jenkins are Cwens.

December 11, Mrs Webb and Mrs Akers poured at our Faculty tea. December 14, was the date for our one big annual formal dance. Saegertown Inn closed down without notice four days before the party. Whereupon, all the men's fraternities on the hill offered us their houses in which to give the dance. We gratefully accepted the offer of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon's new home.

31 January 1929

Margaret Helmbold

Frances Bond and William Horner were married Feb. 9.

Married: Inez Brumbaugh and Dr R. D. Frawley, June 29, 1928.

Omicron—University of Southern California

Omicron is happy and pleased that its theater party was a huge success. Under the able direction of Harriet Foster, we disposed of all the downstairs seats and most of the balcony ones.

Our Christmas formal dinner dance was a merry holiday affair at the Westport beach club. The favors were cigarette cases, cleverly combined with the evening's dance program.

Plans are being completed for Founders'-day banquet, at the Jonathan club. Three hundred reservations have been made, the guests including delegates from thirty-five chapters. A pageant will be the entertainment, Kappa Alpha Theta as it was in 1870, written by Dorothy Davis, Omicron, will be presented by a cast chosen from the three Los Angeles chapters.

Charlotte LaTouche

Born: To Mr and Mrs Douglas Mueller (Margaret Barnard) a son, Barnard.

Deborah Fredericks is leaving next month for a trip to Honolulu.

Rho—University of Nebraska

With the close of first semester Rho lost six members. Evelyn Brown and Clarice Bancroft graduated. Nellie Reavis went to New York to study voice. Peggy Hedges will be married March 2. Gladys Zimmer and Phyllis Johnson, pledge, left because of ill health. Though their going leaves a gap in the chapter, the house remains full, for Rho's two affiliates from Beta Gamma, Ruth McCormick and Fern Newsom, together with Margaret Ward, transfer from Alpha, have moved into the house.

December 18 we entertained sixty small children from the Bancroft school with a Christmas party at the chapter house. Clothes, food, and toys were given each child by Santa Claus. December 19 the annual chapter Christmas party was given, the freshmen entertaining with a pirate stunt, and alumnae adding to festivities with home made pop corn balls and candied apples. Our annual formal, in the new Cornhusker ball room, January 25, was a decided success.

Lillian Lancaster has been elected to Theta Sigma Phi.

Theta stands third in the women's intra-mural competition.

Gertrude Ord, Jean Towne, and DeLellis Schramek were in the chorus for Kosmet's midnight revue, February 1.

January 21, Fern Newsom and Ruth McCormick, Beta Gamma, were formally affiliated by Rho.

Sigma—University of Toronto

The prevalence of 'flu over the Christmas season interfered with the winter house-party, which Sigma had hoped would be an annual affair. In spite of the epidemic, however, and the rather disappointing weather, ten girls did reach Thornhill, and enjoyed a long New Year's week-end.

After a delayed college opening, again due to the 'flu, we pledged Betty McBrady, Port Arthur, and Mary Wallace, Toronto, daughter of Principal Wallace of University college. Then attention was focused on initiation. Combining, as usual, Founders'-day and initiation, the banquet was January 26, at the Clarendon apartments. Seven girls, Katherine Crowe, Guelph, Hasel Hammond, Katharine O'Brien, Betty Lang, Patricia O'Reilly, Winifred Pain, and Elizabeth Stockdale, all of Toronto, were initiated. Betty Donaldson and Joyce Jones made arrangements for the splendid dinner, and forty-five alumnae were present. Helen O'Reilly, recently returned from Paris, was toastmistress. Sigma's only regret was that, owing to illness in her family the District president, Mrs McKinney, was unable to be present.

The New Year brought an innovation. Hart house, sanctuary of the men of the university, was opened to forty women. The constitutions of the house and of the Debating committee were set aside, and invitations issued to the leading women students of all the colleges. While the honor lay in the unprecedentedness of the occasion, the interest lay in the debate, for Hart house debates are famous; and it is hoped that the privilege will again be extended.

At the present time, Mrs Barbour, Grand president of Gamma Phi Beta, is visiting Toronto. Some of us are to have an opportunity to meet her, and get the point of view of a national officer of another great fraternity.

Tau—Northwestern University

On Founders'-day the entire chapter attended the luncheon at the Palmer house in Chicago, where Tau, Delta, and the five alumnae chapters in state celebrated together. As part of the program Tau presented, under the direction of Margaret Hickman, a pageant of the origin of Kappa Alpha Theta, in which characters represented the Founders and ideals.

Tau felt highly honored in January when its president, Betty Sargent, had conferred upon her the honors of Phi Beta Kappa before an all-university convocation. Millicent Dillon that same week was initiated into Theta Sigma Phi.

Jane Olson is serving as chairman of the Northwestern Student congress executive committee which is planning for a big college convention in March. She is also president of Panhellenic.

After exams six upperclass pledges moved into the house, in which for the first time every room is filled. We miss Cornelia Adams who graduated in February, and is on a Mediterranean cruise; also Margaret Besanceney, pledge, whose engagement was announced to Lee Beardshear of Dennison university, the night before she left for Dennison where she will continue in college until her wedding in June.

Tau has been ice skating and playing basketball for recreation. She missed the university championship basketball trophy in the intramurals by only a few points.

A new pledge is Margaret Emde of Detroit, Michigan, who is losing no time in getting started, for although only a freshman she is editor of the university's German paper.

Chi—Syracuse University

Chi announces the pledging of Louise Miller, Syracuse.

The university closed Christmas a week ahead of schedule because of influenza, so many Christmas activities were omitted. Chi was sorry not to have the chapter Christmas party and the annual Christmas afternoon party for children. Chi's Christmas formal was postponed from December 16 to January 5, when it was held in the small ball room of the Hotel Onandaga, a most successful dance.

Rosa Mahr was chosen leading lady for The Romantic lady to be given this spring by Boar's head, campus dramatic society. Dorothy Stowell was head usher for Boar's head play Tons of money, presented January 30. Katherine Coe, Betty Naylor, Gloyd Simmons and Georgine Feldman were also ushers for the same play.

The annual Panhellenic banquet was in the ball room of Hotel Syracuse November 26. Chi was happy to discover that Theta's rank in scholarship was raised from tenth to sixth place among the twenty-two women's fraternities on campus.

Chi expects to occupy its new home the last of March, celebrating with a house-warming which will be a formal afternoon and evening reception. All are more than eager to begin living in the new house and are delighted that the seniors will have the pleasure and opportunity of spending part of their last year there.

Many alumnae were present as Louise Mautz lighted the four candles in honor of the four Founders of Kappa Alpha Theta. Miss Green gave a delightful talk concerning the way in which early chapters were founded through correspondence with girls in other colleges.

Dorothy Boyd, junior, is transferring from Wisconsin to Columbia where she will enter the School of business. Dorothy was initiated March 24, 1928, and has taken part in dramatic productions while at the university. Rosine Hensley as new rushing captain managed the rushing affairs well.

Pledging was January 23, after which the sophomores took the pledges on a spree to finish up an exciting day.

Founders'-day banquet was at the Hotel Mary Hopkins in San Francisco January 26. Mrs Elizabeth Hogue Moore, Grand president, was the guest of honor. College members of Phi and Omega were there, as well as many alumnæ.

Alpha Beta—Swarthmore College

Parties have been scarce in the chapter the last two months. We have all been working hard, and have just finished mid-year examinations. We did have a Christmas party, however, with a tree and food, and a present for each of us. Each of last year's seniors presented the Lodge with a book. We think these were the nicest presents we could have received.

Initiation is to be February 8 at the home of Marion Comly Harris (Mrs Edson S.) in Rose Valley. Our Formal dance is the next night, February 9, at the Adelphia hotel in Philadelphia.

Nancy Biddle, Sarah Stidham, Caroline Jackson, and Eleanor Jenkins are on the college swimming team. Helen Booth, Elizabeth Sterling, Bobby Pearson, Winkles Hurlock are all on the basketball squad. Bobby Pearson also made the Little theater club.

Marion Comly Harris

Born, a daughter, Marietta Jean, to Mr and Mrs William Gowdy (Margaret Jameson).

Alpha Gamma—Ohio State University

Founders'-day provided a splendid opportunity for Alpha Gamma and Gamma deuteron to start a custom which all hope will continue. Although the two chapters are only twenty-five miles apart, never before have they had a joint function of any kind. So it was quite an occasion when, on January 26, they celebrated Founders'-day together at a formal banquet at the Deshler-Wallick hotel in Columbus.

The evening proved delightful, and the memory of it will linger long in the hearts of every one of us. Among the features of the program (which followed a perfectly delicious turkey dinner) were a talk by Mrs Eugenie K. Overturf, Dean of women at Ohio Wesleyan, who told of her experiences as a District president; and some reminiscences of Edith D. Cockins, registrar of Ohio State and a charter member of Alpha Gamma. Mrs Florence Burt, toastmistress and president of Columbus alumnae, welcomed Gamma deuteron. A response was given by Betty Storer, Gamma deuteron president. Louise Johnson, president of Alpha Gamma, gave the toast to the Founders. Olive Jones, Alpha Gamma, sang the Theta prayer, the words of which were written by Mrs Gertrude Bellows Auld of Alpha Gamma. She was accompanied by Mrs Hazel Snyder Pontius at the piano, and Ruth McConnell on the violin. Songs by Gamma deuteron and Alpha Gamma concluded the program. We regretted that Mrs Grasset was unable to attend the banquet because of the illness of her daughter.

Alpha Gamma is happy to announce the affiliation of Sue Belle Reemelin, a transfer last year from Alpha Tau.

Mary Jane Auld and Dorothy Hooper are in charge of Theta's stunt for Hi-Jinx, annual vaudeville show to be given February 16 by Women's athletic association.

Alpha Gamma entertained with a formal dance at the Columbus Country club December 7. Good music by the Scarlet Mask band added much to the pleasure of the evening, which every one pronounced a huge success.

December 8 the alumnae had a luncheon meeting to which the college chapter was invited. Mrs Esther Stafford Taylor gave an interesting account of her recent trip to Norway.

A freshman Panhellenic association has been established. It plans for two representatives from each pledge chapter to take dinner once a week with the pledge chapter of another fraternity. Emily Postlewaite is Theta's representative in this organization.

During February all women's fraternities at Ohio State will hold a series of Fireside sessions, sponsored by Y.W.C.A. at which men and women, prominent both on and off campus, will speak.

We miss Ann Lindenberg, who graduated last quarter; Ann Huntington, who is going abroad; and Virginia Shoop, Elizabeth Gibson and Mary Josephine Keegan, who are in Florida. We expect Ann Huntington and Virginia back for spring quarter.

Betty Bonnet

Born to Mr and Mrs Daniel Webber (Helen Pryor) a son, in Jan.

Married: Dorothy Berndt and Robert Moore. They live in Portsmouth, Ohio.

Alpha Delta—Goucher College

Alpha Delta had its traditional alumnae and faculty teas in December. We were delighted to receive such a large number of the alumnae chapter and so many of the faculty. Our enthusiasm for these two events increases each year.

Founders'-day was observed February 2 by a luncheon of the alumnae and college chapters, at Goucher's attractive alumnae lodge.

Roana Bass, junior, was pledged December 14. Pledging was followed by a jolly Christmas party and general hilarity. Eleanor Branson, pledge, sang in the special Christmas choir of the beautiful Carol service held annually in the college on the eve of departure for the holidays. This occasion is one of the most inspiring and distinctive of Goucher college traditions.

Alpha Delta is sorry that Virginia Dresch has left college for a semester, but welcomes back Elizabeth Corbell after her long illness.

Mrs Louis Wilputte and Miss Helen Waldo were the speakers of the day and arranged the details of the luncheon and entertainment. "Micky" McKee, Omicron, known to radio audiences all over the country as the whistler of Roxy's Gang, gave several bird imitations and songs. Helen Waldo sang her Christopher Robin songs and Mrs Dean gave several amusing dances.

Alpha Kappa has decided to hold initiation at Panhellenic house and has invited all New York alumnae to attend.

At college plans are being formulated for next year when the college will move to Garden City. The question of a student house for the college is being discussed. Miss Slocum spoke of it at the Founders'-day luncheon and the chapter has been told that in working for this center it can rely on the support of New York alumnae.

Alpha Lambda—University of Washington

To accommodate the girls who must return to their homes for Christmas vacation Santa made a special trip, visiting us December 14, and leaving many beautiful gifts, including four dozen silver coffee spoons, from alumnæ. He even stayed during the stunts presented by each class, and we think he was much amused.

January 26 we will initiate thirteen pledges and that same evening thirteen new beaming faces will be seen at Founders'-day banquet at the University women's club.

Our number has decreased by three: Betty Grace left to spend the winter in California; Louise Phelps remained at her home in Tacoma; and Helen Williams graduated and returned to her home in The Dalles, Oregon. One member was added when Betty Malcom was pledged November 19.

Our neighbor, Phi Gamma Delta, has removed its house from its lot preparatory to building a new one. The new and attractive Sigma Chi house recently has been completed.

Alpha Mu—University of Missouri

We got back from Thanksgiving vacation December 3, and December 10 college was dismissed because of an epidemic of influenza. We all enjoyed the unusually long vacation. We returned January 3. Since, Kangaroo court and the freshman party were the two main events.

The party was one of the cutest, most entertaining parties ever given. The house was decorated as the Kite athletic club. The pledges illustrated how they could take any active and train her to be a social success. After dinner, the pledges presented a handsome radio to the house. Since then we have found it difficult to make ourselves study instead of listening to the radio.

We are proud of the grades our pledges made first semester. We will initiate twelve out of sixteen. The chapter made a 220 average, but social privileges are still denied because it did not make 229.

Founders'-day banquet and initiation are February 16 and 17. We expect many alumnæ back.

The Saturday exams were over, we gave a pajama rush party. The Phi Delt's came over to serenade us at twelve thirty. After a midnight lunch was served, and Theta songs sung, we retired. Sunday morning, we all got up early and had breakfast together. We pledged one new girl, Eleanor Mauze from Kansas City.

Alpha Nu—University of Montana

Alpha Nu started the quarter with seventeen girls in the house. Dorothy Cooper was unable to return due to the illness of her father. We sincerely hope that he will recover soon and that Dorothy will be with us again spring quarter. Louise Lubrecht has moved in from her home in Bonner and is living in the chapter house. Dorothy Lay, who attended Washington university until Christmas, is back. Lydia Maury has moved into the chapter house. Elizabeth Maury, who worked last quarter, is now attending the university.

January 14 Alpha Nu pledged Elizabeth Perham of Butte.

Founders'-day preparations are in full swing. The chapter will give the story of the founding of Theta, while the pledges will present a stunt as their share in the day's celebration. There will not be many alumnæ with us, because the severe weather has driven many of them temporarily to warmer climates.

The tryouts for Varsity Vodvil, which will determine what women's and what men's fraternities will put on the acts in the finals, come February 23.

Class team managers for basketball were elected January 18; Nellie Grant, pledge, is manager of the junior team. Practice for class teams started January 11 and the teams will be picked at the end of the practice period by the managers and the physical education instructors.

Alpha Nu has started a new system for cleaning of the house. Each girl is assigned a definite task to do throughout the quarter. A proctor is to see that the work is done. So far, results have been excellent.

Fourteen of these pledges were initiated January 19. At the initiation banquet, Mary Katherine Fenton (daughter of Lela Goddard Fenton, charter member of Alpha Xi) received the Scholarship cup awarded by Eugene alumnae club to the freshman with the highest scholarship average.

We celebrated Founders'-day with a tea for Eugene alumnae at which the pledges gave an original stunt and surprised us by a gift of two hundred dollars to the house. Another gift, a pair of crystal candelabra, was from our Mothers.

Eleanor Flannigan was secretary of Junior week-end, on Finance committee of the Christmas Ball, and on the Greater Oregon committee. Helen Peters is head of the Big Sister organization, pledged to Phi Theta Upsilon, service society, and a member of Glee club of which Betty Higgins is also a member. Alpha Omicron enjoyed a Christmas banquet, December 18, the chief feature of which was a Christmas tree. The pledges presented the house with velvet hangings for the dining-room archway.

Founders'-day banquet was at the University club in Oklahoma City. Oklahoma City alumnæ gave Alpha Omicron and Beta Zeta chapters gifts at this time.

Among the university girls whose pictures have been chosen for the society section of the yearbook are the following Thetas; Dorothy Ann Parker, Louise Replogle, and Ruth Vaught.

Mary Griffin, Beta Zeta; Ruth Livermore and Frances Blackman, Alpha Omicron, have left for an extended trip to Panama.

We are sorry to lose Mex Rodman, who graduated this semester, and Ann Raub, who will be with us again next fall,

Ruth Vaught

Married: Ada Lewis Sohlberg and Thaddeus Winston Eason.

Born to Mr and Mrs T. John Torkelson (Alva Jarbeau) a daughter. Address: 719 E. 15th st; Oklahoma City; Okla.

Alpha Pi—University of North Dakota

Due to an epidemic of influenza the university closed nearly two weeks early, so the customary Christmas social events were cancelled.

Alpha Pi's first social event of the new year is the annual Theta co-ed, a function to which all fraternity girls and their guests are invited. It is considered one of the most enjoyed traditions on the campus.

Founders'-day was celebrated January 27 at a banquet in the Ryan hotel. Memories, humorous and serious, of last summer's convention at Breezy point were interesting features of the program.

Work on Theta's act for the University Follies will be the most pressing demand immediately following semester examinations. This is an annual university entertainment in singing and dancing acts by ten chosen groups. The women's group which produces the most outstanding act will receive a loving cup and likewise there will be a cup for the best act by a men's group. Alpha Pi's closely resembles a melting pot scene. In the first act girls will dance and sing representing people from foreign countries before American civilization has touched them; dancing into a huge melting pot they will come out for the final chorus, typical American representatives.

Alpha Rho—University of South Dakota

Alpha Rho has, with the entire university, mourned the death of Dr Robert L. Slagle, president of the university, who recently died, after a stroke of paralysis. Dr Slagle had been an educational leader in the state for more than forty years.

An outstanding campus improvement this year is the new $300,000 armory and gymnasium recently dedicated. A feature of the building is a large swimming pool, open to both men and women.

Alpha Rho enjoyed a visit from Mrs Slocum, District president, soon after vacation. During her much-too-brief visit two parties were given for her, Vermillion alumnae being guests at a dinner and Panhellenic delegates guests at a luncheon.

Leila Dunlap is manager of the senior girls' hockey team.

Elizabeth Frary has returned for second semester after studying at the Settlement music school in Philadelphia.

Alpha Rho is much excited over the plans for a new chapter house, to be built in the spring. The house will be ready for use next fall.

Elinor Payne is studying in the University of Illinois library school.

Alpha Sigma—State College of Washington

The quiet winter months have brought little but the usual round of studying, elections, dances, coasting and sleigh riding parties. The second semester opened with thirty-four girls in the house. Virginia Crampton, Lillian Alvestad, and Catherine Robinson left college, while Helen Howard, pledge, out of college during the fall semester, returned.

Marybelle Weatherford, Gertrude Austin and Marguerite Sherfy are members of the college glee club, for which Dorothy Robinson is violin soloist. The club will soon make a state-wide tour. Miss White has been permanent alumnae secretary for several years and has done a great deal for the college chapter.

Plans are being made to go to Moscow in sleighs to spend Founders'-day with Beta Theta.

We entertained Phi Delta Theta at dessert, and we were entertained by Kappa Sigma for Sunday dinner. We also went to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house for dinner and to Tau Kappa Epsilon for dessert.

The Christmas bazaar, the Saturday before Christmas vacation, netted $127. On the same evening we gave a snowball dance, decorating the house attractively with cotton snowballs, snowmen, and Eskimo igloos.

Alpha Tau—University of Cincinnati

January 11, the pledges gave their party for the chapter. It was a novel entertainment: the first part of the evening was spent in roller skating, after which there was a supper and a slumber party at Laura Saunders' home.

The pledges have entered into activities. Catherine Bayless is in charge of the dances for Greek games, an annual sophomore and freshman competition among the women of the university. Catherine has also been taken into Aspirants, literary society. Morton Brown has joined Mummies, dramatic organization, and was in its play, L'Aiglon. Dorothy Hoffman has been in some Persian Rug plays, a series of plays given within Mummies. Mary Beresford and Marjorie Bowen are running for Y.W.C.A. offices. Laura Saunders is the swimming manager for the Trojan league, one of several competitive athletic leagues among women.

January 25, we celebrated Founders'-day by a banquet at Hotel Alms. We were sorry not to have the honor of Mrs Grasset's presence. We had the pleasure of having three Thetas from out of town: Dr Eleanor Adams, president of Oxford college, gave a talk on Just being folks; Mona Alderman, Beta Nu, played for us; and Margaret Spaulding, Alpha, gave several readings.

February 25 is the date for our winter formal, a snow party over which the seniors have charge.

Alpha Upsilon is proud of her scholarship record first semester. There were no failures in the chapter, and every girl made exceptionally high grades. The scholarship ring, which was worn last semester by Juanita Hobbs, now goes to Susan Snyder in recognition of eighteen hours of "A." Several girls in the chapter made straight "A."

The annual dinner given by the Mother's club for the chapter will be February 12 at the chapter house.

Alpha Psi—Lawrence College

Alpha Psi wishes to head this letter with one broad "Thank you" to Appleton alumnae for the most generous and attractive refurnishing of the chapter rooms. The red and black motif in the hangings and pillows brings out and enhances the beauty of the dark mahogany furniture. The room is lighted by wall brackets, two wrought-iron floor lamps and a handsome table lamp of modernistic design. The affect of these soft lights upon the dark furniture and hangings is beautiful.

Among the busy and thereby distinguished members of the chapter are Ruth Ann Linn, one of five seniors chosen to be senior counsellors to freshman girls. Ruth Ann is also an actress of some note, recently elected to National collegiate players. Trudy Weber had the lead in Sunset player's production of Nugent's comedy The poor nut. Helena Holset played an important rôle in the Dramatic club's presentation of Flavin's Children of the moon. Eleanor Lee is president of Sunset players, dramatic society.

Helen Rudin has held the women's tennis championship for the last two years.

Pledges elected by freshman girls to Freshman commission are Jeannette Jenkyns, Ann Mailer, Jane Olmsted, and Lucille Ozanne. Muriel Penner, Lucille Ozanne, and Julia Ladwig are members of Sunset players. The freshman representative on Women's student government association is Ellen White.

Avis Kennicott is on the staff of Ariel, Lawrence's year-book. Margaret Holmes is a member of the Rifle club. Ruth Smith is in the Chemistry club. Julia Ladwig is the only freshman member of the French and Classical clubs.

Alpha Psi's winter formal was at the Valley inn, Neenah, December 15. It was a dinner dance, with the decorations of Spanish type.

Our Founders'-day celebration lasted for two days and we were ably assisted by our distinguished guests of honor, Miss L. Pearle Green and Mrs Margaret Banta. The first gathering was a formal dinner at the Conway hotel, Appleton; and the second was a luncheon at Russell Sage hall, the upperclass women's dormitory.

Because of the presence of these guests and the significance of the day, this Founders'-day program was a most inspiring one to all members of Alpha Psi.

Betty B. MacDougal

Beta Beta—Randolph-Macon Woman's College

Beta Beta has the best promisees ever! You would think so too, if you had been at the lovely banquet they gave the chapter on December 1 at the Virginia hotel.

Christmas, which now seems merely a pleasant dream, began with our Christmas party in honor of the promisees the Sunday before we went home. There was a beautiful Christmas tree and many good things to eat, but the coming of Santa was the crowning event. Each freshman received an appropriate gift from Woolworth's, but it was the house old Santa treated most royally. First, to the delight of the cooks of the chapter, he showered the kitchen with every utensil that could be desired. That to him didn't seem enough, he couldn't slight the other rooms, so he brought a lovely chair for the living-room from Miss Ames, our loyal faculty sister, and an electric heater for the dining-room from the promisees.

We are sorry to have Merrill Pratt leave us, even though she graduated in high standing. She will spend the rest of the winter doing graduate work at Columbia and profiting by all else that New York city may offer.

We are happy to have back Lucy Mae Smith, who was at the University of Oklahoma first semester.

We have again optimistically planted shrubbery in front of the house, hoping it will take away the dreary external appearance that so belies the internal atmosphere.

We will have Founders'-day service at the chapter house Sunday night, January 27.

26 January 1929

Mary Frances Tuttle

Ruth Parker's married name was misspelled in the November issue—it is Mrs Stevens Gibbs not Giggs.

Helen Shepard is doing graduate work at Columbia.

Married: Helen Rardin and Lewis Cochran Yates, June, 1928. Address: 1514 Jackson st. Portsmouth, Ohio.

Beta Gamma—Colorado State College

Beta Gamma had its annual Christmas party December 19 at the chapter house, attractively decorated for the occasion with holly wreaths, spruce, and mistletoe. The first part of the evening was spent in getting acquainted—the mothers with the girls. Then the pledges entertained with an amusing stunt entitled The highwayman. About nine o'clock, a jolly Santa, Norma Evans, appeared and gave mock presents to every one, on each of which a verse about the receiver was written. These presents were later sent to a needy family. Santa also brought many lovely gifts for the house: silver salt and pepper shakers, pillows for the living room, a picture, an electric toaster, a candy bowl, doilies, a light fixture for the dining-room, brass candelabras, money from the mothers, new linoleum for the bathrooms from Denver alumnae, and a fireside bench from the pledges.

Agnes Eagle has been elected to Alpha Chi Alpha, national journalistic society. Anna Lory, pledge, has the second lead in Robin Hood, to be given February 15 and 16. Delia Oakes has been elected secretary of the junior class.

23 January 1929

A son, Frederick Harold, jr. was born to Mr and Mrs F. H. Leinback (Virginia Curry) Jan. 5.

Mr and Mrs John E. Kimmons (Louise Thomasson) have moved to Whittier, Calif. where Mr Kimmons is engaged in the clothing business.

Margaret Bullen is a Field representative for American Red Cross. She travels a good deal and finds it "so fine to meet Thetas on my travels. In Salt Lake city I have been most fortunate in meeting several whom I enjoyed greatly."

Beta Delta—University of Arizona

Second semester rushing was brief, terminating February 7 with the pledging of Jane Wilson, Long Beach, California, and the repledging of Madge Barkley, Phoenix, who has been out of college for a year.

We are sorry to lose Margeret Loper, chapter president, who has gone to her home in Phoenix because of ill health. Laura Ballard and Violet Edwards graduated this term; Laura's family are moving to Phoenix while Violet is enrolling for graduate work. Marian Bond is at her home in Gilbert making plans for a spring trip abroad.

Founders'-day was celebrated February 7 with a buffet supper at the chapter house. The pledges entertained—with a stunt concerning the evolution of Theta and a new song written for the occasion by Jean Williams.

February 10 the moving picture, Sadie Thompson, given at the Temple theater brought some funds to Beta Delta, which are being used for landscaping. Members and alumnae worked together to sell tickets to this performance, receiving half the profit on each ticket. A great many shrubs have already been put in and add much to the appearance of our yard.

The pledges are making plans for their pledge dance February 22. It will be a sport dance.

11 February 1929

Evelyn Fowler

Beta Epsilon—Oregon State College

Beta Epsilon has five new pledges: Anita and Clara Blazier, Catherine Scanlon, Portland; Frieda Flood, Westport; and Isabelle Dearborn, Corvallis. Fall pledges were—Mary Ford, Edith Parsons, Jane Mercer, Marjory Reynolds, Garnet Butler, Margaret Richmond, Helen Reed, and Sylvia Strain (sister).

January 25, we gave an informal tea for our new house-mother, Mrs Anna K. White of Portland.

February 2, the Y.W.C.A. sponsored a waffle breakfast. Four chapter houses were chosen in which to give the breakfast, and the other women's fraternities were assigned to these houses as assisting hostesses. The men then came and danced and were served waffles. Gamma Phi Beta and Alpha Gamma Delta assisted at the Theta house.

A new practice started by Panhellenic is exchange dinners. Six girls from each house exchange for a meal, so as to become better acquainted and foster a better feeling among the Panhellenic groups.

The Home economics department is sponsoring a new course, a two year home economics course for girls who plan to start housekeeping right away. It will provide a little college for those who can't go the full four years.

Founders'-day was celebrated with a formal banquet, with alumnae from Albany and Corvallis as guests.

Flora McCoy, special in music, will have the leading feminine rôle in Chimes of Normandy, to be given by the Madrigal and Glee clubs.

Mrs Marian Hill Barrett, Phi, and Mrs Stephaine Strain Scott, Beta Epsilon, surely are making a "home at school" for Thetas.

The scholarship ring for the highest average during the spring term has been awarded to Dorothy Germon.

Virginia Kinsman was sent as Y.W.C.A. delegate to a conference of the National student federation of America at the University of Missouri. Charlotte Flack was sent to the conference of the National amateur athletic federation, women's division, in New York, January 3 to 5.

Beta Eta is grateful to Philadelphia alumnae chapter for the gift of a pewter tea service, presented at the joint celebration of Founders'-day. We look forward with pleasure to February 20 when we will entertain the alumnae chapter.

The Christian association drive for the Memorial hall fund was conducted with the usual success among the freshmen. Theta pledges working were, Shirley Brown and Grace Faaet, also Edith Cadwallader and Elizabeth Masterman.

Shirley Brown has been elected chairman of Freshman commission, a discussion group under Y.W.C.A. Dorothy Puder is freshman president; Grace Faaet is secretary, and Shirley Brown and Adele Quinto members of the class council.

The chapter celebrated Christmas together on the evening of December 20. Elizabeth McCaughan, an excellent Santa Claus, delivered curious presents to each of us, while two fur coats and a pair of tea strainers made a ferocious deer out of Blanche Knabe.

The chapter and pledges are planning an evening together in Memorial hall at an informal dance, February 16.

Theta members of Sphinx and Key this year are Helen Henle, Blanche Knabe, Jeanne Emery, and Virginia Kinsman.

31 January 1929

Beta Theta—University of Idaho

Beta Theta, with an average of 5.018 for 1927-28, has possession of the Mary McClintock Upham scholarship cup, awarded annually to the women's group on Idaho campus which has the highest scholastic average.

Alpha Sigma girls were the guests of Beta Theta at a fire-side in honor of Founders'-day January 27. Stunts and a general get-together were followed by a lunch and a ten minute sing. The two chapters are planning a joint dance sometime in early April.

Grace Shellworth was initiated into Phi Upsilon Omicron, national Home economics club.

Beta Theta pledges are taking an active part in campus activities. Gladys Gleason has made the varsity debate squad. Doris Brower and Ruth Randall have entertained with fancy dancing at various mixers on campus. Esther Rae was elected secretary of the women's pep band, in which she plays the trombone. Betty Hummer is earning money by playing the piano for dinners and parties around town. Dorothy Patric is writing feature stories for The Argonaut, the college newspaper.

We are happy to announce the pledging of Martha Hunter of Valentine, Nebraska.

The Founders'-day banquet will be at the Brown Palace hotel in Denver, February 2. Beta Iota plans to have all active members and new initiates present.

The annual Christmas luncheon was at a local tea room December 29, at which were present alumnae, undergraduate Thetas and pledges who were in the city.

Founders'-day was celebrated by a formal banquet January 26. On the toast program Beularhee Simons and Helen McKim responded for the college and pledge chapters.

Born to Mr and Mrs E. M. Brown (Marcella Allen) a daughter; to Mr and Mrs H. B. Haight (Juliet Chamberlain) a daughter.

Mildred Hutton is teaching at Hampton.

Beta Lambda—William and Mary College

In the latter part of November two local fraternities on campus received national charters, from Kappa Delta and Delta Delta Delta respectively. Now there are no local fraternities at William and Mary.

Many Christmas parties were held in our house before the holidays. The pledges gave us a bridge party December 18. We had a joint party with Chi Omega the next night at which we had a wonderful time. Then Thursday night our chaperon gave us another party.

Directly on our return from the holidays examinations started. During that time nothing was done but studying. As a result of examinations we initiated Margeret Corey, Florence Bainbridge, Mildred Urkhart, Mamie Adams, Virginia Clopton, Lucille Burke, Peggy Parker, February 9.

We made extensive plans for that to be an alumnae week end too. A large delegation of alumnae were back both for initiation and for a general get-together. Included in our program was a tour of Williamsburg as it is being restored.

Our District president, Virginia Smith Zehmer, visited us early in February to talk about having a district convention here in the spring. We were so glad to have her, especially since she is a beloved alumna of Beta Lambda.

We are sad to lose one of our outstanding girls, Lois Wilson, who received her A.B. degree at the end of first semester. She has gone to Smith college to work toward an M.A. degree.

Betty Woodward James, Dorothy Farrar, Elizabeth Duke, Ruth James visited us recently and we were so glad to have them with us.

30 January 1929

Ellen Ticer

Beta Mu—University of Nevada

As a finale to last semester's dramatic activity, Campus players presented He who gets slapped. We were doubly interested in its success because of the participation of Ellen Harrington, who interpreted with exasperating charm the part of selfish, lovable, little "Consuelo," and Genevieve Leonard, who designed and helped to make costumes for the leads. The costume Genevieve designed for "Zenida," the lion tamer—a daring idea in gold and scarlet—was the sort of thing which makes a part, something the audience will remember along with Consuelo's sweet, careless smiles. Ellen and Genevieve collaborated, too, on a feature for the last issue of The desert wolf—a cleverly written farce of local campus life which Ellen wrote and "Gen" illustrated.

Ellen graduated mid-semester. She was literary editor of the campus paper, a member of Phi Kappa Phi, D.A.E. and Y.W.C.A. Cabinet, untiringly active in campus dramatics, and still generous enough to have time for a smile and kind word for every one. We admire Ellen and will miss her participation in campus life; we love her and will miss her sweet, energetic, ever-generous and kindly contribution to chapter questions and activity.

At the annual pledge Christmas party the chapter received from the mother's club $100.00 for the down payment on a Sherman and Clay medium grand piano. We are proud of our piano, which is an attractive addition to the house furnishings as well as to chapter music.

Idel Anderson has been elected president of women's rifle team and appointed in charge of Y.W.C.A. winter sports. Her younger sister, Donna, pledge, has been recognized by Y.W.C.A. and initiated into W.A.A.

The chapter's scholastic average for last semester was 2.25; the pledge average 2.26. Three girls—Helen Steinmiller, pledge, Euphemia Clark, and Margaret Fuller, pledge—made university honor roll.

We are initiating Margaret Ede, Marion Nichols, Lillian Stigon, Josephine Bernard, Helen Blair, Helen Steinmiller, Margaret Fuller, Peggy Johnstone, Verna Butler and Jean Zuick this month.

Second semester rushing has been adopted, so there will be no further bidding until January 1930.

23 January 1929

Euphemia Clark

Beta Nu—Florida State College for Women

After the last frantic day of mid-term exams was over Beta Nu settled back to enjoy her latest acquisitions: two new pledges, Alta Williams, of Arcadia, and Sarah Parrish, of Pompano; and the Scholarship cup. The first two named are busy around the house with the rest of the pledges—while the latter sits in proud dignity on the living-room mantle. We are really proud of the cup. It has not been in the Theta house before for two years.

Founders'-day was celebrated by a banquet at the Floridan hotel. The table, in the form of a kite, contained all the letters and symbols of the pin. Some brilliant member remarked that all of us, sitting around the edges, looked like the pearls. That may or may not be true.

The same week-end as Founders'-day, Phi Mu installed her Alpha Epsilon chapter here. As a local, Alpha Epsilon was one of the best groups on campus, and every one is pleased that it has obtained a charter from Phi Mu.

The usual monotony of second semester was broken by the excitement of the Governor's Inauguration. Tallahassee, as the state capital, was the scene of all the activities. The worst part was that the Inaugural ball was held in the college dining-hall. Only seniors with dates could go, but the rest of the college, in bed at the usual ten thirty, could hear the music and the noise until—well, let any one try listening to a wonderful orchestra at a ball not a block away, and just see how you enjoy it!

For the first time the chapter house has a good percentage of the members living in it. Two moved down from campus second semester, making a total of sixteen. Plans are being made for buying new furniture and re-decorating the downstairs rooms. The house belongs to the business manager of the college, but its admirable location just opposite the college gates makes us all wish that we owned it.

Surely people still come to Florida, and if people, why not Thetas. And if Thetas, why not a stop-over in Tallahassee? We would love to have every Theta that comes South stop over and visit Beta Mu.

Beta Xi—University of California at Los Angeles

No letter received.

Beta Omicron—University of Iowa

Beta Omicron is starting the new semester with high hopes and ambitions, to say nothing of new plans and ideas.

Helen Rubyor, member of University players, has been given a part in Right you are. Delores Robinson and Zona Gale Stevenson took part in Rackety-packety house, which was successfully given.

Catherine Ball made the highest grade in the freshman Departmental English examination.

The state Home economics club has elected Helen Hansen vice-president. Marion Paschal is in charge of intramural basketball for Kappa Alpha Theta.

Beta Omicron has entered a team in the all university bridge tournament, with Frances Bartley as captain.

January 27, Beta Omicron had a Founders'-day banquet in the chapter house. Mrs Paul Moore, Eta, acted as toastmistress. Toasts, The past, The present, The future, were given by Frances Bartley, Elizabeth Irwin, and Virginia Gamble.

Beta Omicron enjoyed a short visit with Genevieve Forbes Herriek who spoke at a Journalistic banquet in Iowa City.

February 10 has been set as the date for the next informal party with Grace Stevenson in charge.

Beta Rho—Duke University

Founders'-day was celebrated January 27. The active members and alumnæ in town gathered at six thirty in the chapter room, where supper was served and the Founders'-day service held.

The chapter is now busy planning initiation, to be February 16. We are looking forward with great pleasure to this week-end, for it is also the time for our annual banquet and home-coming day in celebration of the installation of our chapter. We expect many alumnæ back. Helen Scanlon Wright, Alpha Eta, plans to give us a party at her home in Durham the week before initiation.

The chapter room is being dressed up in preparation for coming events. We have bought an attractive day bed, a rug, and new card tables and cards. The pledges are in charge of fixing the room.

Beta Rho is participating in the Post exam jubilee February 7. We hope to win the silver loving cup, which is awarded by Y.W.C.A. to the group on the campus giving the best and most original stunt.

Every one is looking forward to May day, which is a big event at Duke. Thetas are helping to make May day a success, for Elizabeth MacFadyen has been elected to take charge of the pageant, while several other Thetas are working on committees.

Elizabeth Rucker, one of the literary figures in the chapter, has been appointed to Chanticleer staff, and is to write a feature article for this year's annual. Norma Louise Craft, one of our freshmen, is doing interesting work on the Inter-racial commission of Y.W.C.A.

We announce the pledging of Katherine Pittman of Kinston.

SAILS

I have launched my ship in a stormy sea,
'Tis tussling with mighty gales,
I have my doubts, and I have my fears,
But I have my three strong sails.

And I shall know if the ship is lost,
And I am wrecked at sea,
That it isn't the sail, my three strong sails,
But, it's the Captain of the three.

The sail of Hope, the sail of Faith,
And the sail of Charity
Shall brave the wind and break the gales.
They shall safely anchor me.

RECOMMENDED HOTELS

ALUMNÆ chapters recommend these hotels or clubs throughout the United States for the use of traveling Thetas. In these hotels a register or index of the Thetas resident in those cities is maintained, such register being available for use by fraternity guests. We trust that our members will avail themselves of the plan, will find the recommended hotels satisfactory, and the plan will bring Thetas together to their mutual satisfaction and enjoyment.

Know the Lure of Ancient Castles, the Colosseum by Moonlight, Sunrise in the Alps, Venice from a Gondola.

You will know the thrill of sailing day as you board the large transatlantic liner which will take you to the shores of Scotland. Then you will motor through the Trossachs to Edinburgh; through the Lake District and the Shakespeare Country in England. Then London, and across the Channel to Paris! Magnificent Switzerland, motoring for four days through the Alps—Lucerne, St. Gotthard, Interlaken, Montreux, where, on the shores of Lake Geneva, you see the Castle of Chillon. To Monte Carlo and Nice, where you must bathe in the blue Mediterranean. Genoa; Rome with its old ruins; Florence with its wonderful paintings and hundreds of tiny shops; Venice, Queen of the Adriatic. From Italy into Austria, visiting Innsbruck and Vienna on the Blue Danube; Prague, capital of Czechoslovakia. Next to that interesting old city, Dresden; Berlin, the most beautiful city in the world. And again, boarding the ship at Bremen, you once more experience the fun of ship life before you sail into New York harbor.

NOTWITHSTANDING the existence of many splendid colleges in the metropolitan districts, the solid foundation of the American college system rests upon the colleges within the smaller towns. The colleges have in actuality become small communities while the towns themselves have become merged into the services of the colleges.

In a small community one can never escape his reputation. It may be difficult for a deserving man to obtain recognition in the crowded life of huge cities; a rascal may there find a safe hiding. But, among a population which is small, every person is known for what he is. As this is true of the individual, it is equally true of the corporation that serves the community. Whatever it does for any member of the group is known to all other members. Success or failure is not taken for granted. It becomes a matter of common interest and common knowledge.

Nine of every ten fraternities and sororities upon the American campus receive Balfour service. To maintain a ratio of which we are justly proud, it has been of vital importance that we extend a service that is equally satisfactory to everyone. The continued growth of our contract relations each year is silent evidence that our service to national organizations has become common knowledge throughout the communities of American colleges.
